Reich Votes Approval of Dawes Report

CHANCELLOR MARX UPHELD IN PLEDGE TO EXECUTE PLAN

German Legislative Body
Stood 247 to 182 Upon
Resolution Approving
Report.

NATIONALISTS AND COMMUNISTS OPPOSED

Count Von Reventlow,
Bitter Ender, Warns
Adoption of Report Will Not Stabilize Germany.

BY ERIC KEYSER.

Berlin, June 6.—Chancellor Marx has won his fight to keep Germany pledged to execution of the Dawes plan.

After the past weeks of confusion when, in view of nationalist gains in the elections, it seemed that Germany would repudiate the previous commitment to the project, the reichstag Friday approved the Marx government's policy of executing the report.

The body voted 247 to 182 on a resolution approving the plan. The resolution also instructed the government to do its utmost to gain the so-called "points of honor" for Germany; namely, to arrange that German prisoners in the occupied areas be freed and that Germans expelled from the areas be allowed to return.

The middle parties, supported by the socialist and the Bavarian people's party, voted for the Dawes plan. The nationalists and communists opposed it.

An opposition viewpoint was expressed by Count zu Reventlow, nationalist, who bitterly warned foreign investors against believing that Germany would be stabilized once the report was accepted.

"They must not place confidence in the Dawes plan," he said, "since the signature of this government will not be worth anything."

RULING EXPECTED ON POLICE CHIEF

Judge Thomas Slated To Render Decision Today on the Petition Filed by Councilmen.

Judge E. D. Thomas is expected to decide today whether James L. Beavers is chief of police, and if not, whether city council or its police committee has the power of election following conclusion of a hearing on petition by council members to enjoin the committee.

Judge Thomas recessed the hearing Thursday until 9:30 o'clock today in order to continue the hearing on petition to enjoin the proposed Oak Grove district cemetery.

The petition by 14 members of council in the police case alleges that power to elect a chief was withdrawn from the committee by an ordinance, and that the committee is seeking to hold an election, regardless of council's action. Pending signature by Mayor Sims to the measure, the petition alleges there is no power to prevent an election excepting an injunction.

Both A. Lamar Poole, plainclothes private and former chief of detectives, and E. L. Jett, acting chief of police, are being urged for the place.

Petitioners for injunction Thursday amended their pleadings by setting up that Beavers legally remains chief until final action is taken by the courts.

CANDIDATE DIES ON MUDDY ROAD ON PRIMARY EVE

Rutherfordton, N. C., June 6.—Former State Senator Solomon Gallert, 57, candidate for the democratic nomination for representative in the state legislature, died suddenly today on the eve of the state primary, while campaigning, on the road six miles from here. Physicians said he had over-exerted himself in efforts to get his automobile out of the mud, in which it had become stuck.

Mr. Gallert had served many terms in the legislature and was well known throughout the state.

Compromise Plan Settles Contest In Third District

Johnson Agrees To Seat Both
Felton and Richardson as Delegates.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 6.—A compromise agreement was made today by Henry Lincoln Johnson, republican national committeeman from Georgia, for settlement of a contest from the Third Georgia district.

The compromise was ratified by the national committee. By the terms of the agreement A. L. Felton, of Americus, Ga., the Johnson delegate, and E. S. Richardson, of Marshallville, were seated with one-half vote each. In addition Richardson, superintendent of a negro orphanage school, was recognized as chairman of the district organization.

Richardson's case was taken up after the committee had voted unanimously to seat the delegates-at-large from Arkansas, headed by National Committeeman H. L. Remmel, over a contesting delegation, under the leadership of Scipio A. Jones, a negro.

REFORESTATION BILL IS PASSED BY SENATE

Washington, June 6.—A bill to provide a permanent national reforestation policy was passed today by the senate.

It would call for an annual appropriation of $2,700,000 to be used by the secretary of agriculture in this work on payment of like sums by the states.

Act 3 in Tinney-Wilson Case PULLED BLONDE'S HAIR AND KICKED HER IN TUMMY Reveals Broadway Diversion

New York, June 6.—Some first-hand testimony on the diversions with which Broadway's boys and girls amuse themselves when they aren't amusing the public at $6.00 to $8.80 a head was offered by Imogene Wilson, one of the several "most beautiful blondes on Broadway," at the opening of the trial of Frank Tinney.

Facing a serious operation as the alleged result of a brutal beating at the hands of the black-face comedian, the Follies girl explained before Magistrate Levine and a couple of hundred eager members of the show business how Tinney had handled her like an enraged movie hero is supposed to maltreat the city fellow who has thoroughly betrayed the heroine.

The little act Tinney put on in the privacy of her apartment, according to Imogene, included the following numbers of chronological order on the night of May 27:

Here's Order of Treatment. As a reporter entered to see Imogene, Tinney emerged clad in one of Imogene's blue silk kimonos and the earrings of Carrie Sneed, her maid.

Tinney accuses reporter of being a rival.

Reporter proves he isn't, apologizes, makes bow and withdraws. Tinney turns and delivers swift kick on Imogene's instep.

He drugs Imogene by her hair into the kitchen, knocks her down with a fast one to the head, knocks her down again as she gets up, sits on her and pulls her hair out.

Tinney draws first blood. Imogene bleeds from nose and mouth. Tinney kicks Imogene in the tummy. Imogene shouts to her maid, "For God's sake don't let him kill me."

DRIFT TO LOWDEN BECOMES PARADE

Administration Leaders
Are Much Upset Over
Reports That President
Practically Chose Mate.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, June 6.—President Coolidge and administration leaders here are somewhat indignant over reports from Cleveland that the white house is trying to force Frank O. Lowden on the ticket as the vice presidential candidate. A white house spokesman indignantly denied these reports Friday, insisting emphatically that the president stands on the recent announcement that the choice of a running mate would be left to the convention.

The situation as regards Lowden is unchanged from what it was Thursday, when this writer, during a conversation with an exceptionally well-informed source, was told that sentiment among republican leaders rapidly is shifting toward Lowden and that the former Illinois governor has not told Coolidge leaders he would refuse the nomination if it is offered to him. This information, in the opinion of the writer, points strongly to Lowden's nomination.

Lowden will not refuse. Lowden has informed some of his personal friends that he would refuse to accept the nomination. It is not probable that Lowden would do anything of the kind, however. The idea of a public man refusing to accept the nomination after the convention had picked him and gone home is inconceivable.

Tragedy of Death Is Bared SMILE OF INFANT MAY WIN HER GOOD HOME In Finding of Cooing Baby

BY PIERRE VAN PAASEN.
One month ago little Rae came into the world. She was a ray of sunshine in a drab and bare little room. Mother smiled at the big blue eyes that laughed at her and made her forget the anguish of the valley of death through which she had just passed. Father smiled also, but his smile was forced, for in his heart was nothing but sorrow and gloom. Work was hard to find. There were few comforts in the home, no strengthening food for mother, not enough clean linen for Rae.

Mother was slowly sinking. Her eyes became very tired, her hands seemed heavy. And then one evening two weeks ago, while Rae gurgled and cooed, and while the sun was sinking away in the west, mother fell asleep never to wake again.

Then followed the funeral and the great sadness of a home without a mother, the somber shadow in the world.

Friday night the man could stand it no longer. He took Rae and wrapped her up in blankets and placed her in a clothes basket. He walked alone the street with his child under his arms and placed it in front of the doorstep of Mrs. C. C. Bass, 911 Peachtree. There was hardly time for a last look at the little face that must have reminded him of the woman who died two weeks ago, and then he ran away.

Mrs. Bass found a note on the child's clothing. In a few words the father had sketched the whole tragic circumstances.

"Am leaving my little baby girl in your hands. My wife died two weeks ago and I am out of employment. Will appreciate all you do for my little girl. The baby's name is Rae. I am sure that you will be rewarded for your kindness."

CONGRESS WANES IN NEAR TORPOR AFTER HOT ROWS

Both Houses Will Get
Final Tap of Gavel at 7
O'Clock Tonight—Calendars Clear.

REPUBLICAN MEMBERS TO RUSH TO CLEVELAND

World Court, Farm Relief and Railroad Measures
Left To Furnish Fights Next Session.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, June 6.—The most interesting and unusual session of congress in many years, ranging like a lion for months with partisan strife and bickering, is coming to its end very tamely—grinding sleepily and quietly, but speedily, through a mass of minor bills in its last hours.

The approaching end usually finds some big issues at stake. There are none outstanding to be settled before the gavel comes down Saturday night at 7 o'clock. Both houses will close promptly—the time was fixed so that republican members can catch a night train to Cleveland and the convention.

There are plenty of issues left in the pot, which would make the closing hours full of strife—the world court, farm relief, and railroad measures. But they were all shoved aside days ago, leaving the stormiest session in recent years to die most placidly.

Among the numerous measures which were pushed through Friday were:

In the House. The Hoch-Smith resolution, directing the interstate commerce commission to make a general survey of the freight rate structure, with a view to lowering rates on basic farm products. It will be accepted by the senate Saturday.

The conference report on the postal salary increase bill, containing a complete new corrupt practices act, was adopted. It has been sent to the white house, where its fate is in doubt because of the increases, approximately $60,000,000 a year, which it carries.

The Sabbath resolution, allowing more than 13,000 alien wives, children and parents of American citizens, who are liable to deportation under a recent supreme court decision, to remain in the country.

In the Senate. A reforestation bill, appropriating $2,700,000 to rehabilitate forests in various ways, already passed by the house. It now goes to the president.

The last hours are not without their controversies. Senator La Follette, insurgent leader, led a fight Friday to get the Fish resolution, providing $10,000,000 for German relief, brought from the senate foreign relations committee, which recently rejected it. He also made an effort to assure a vote Saturday on his resolution authorizing a special committee to investigate campaign expenditures during the recent session.

Despite the many interruptions to this session through partisan debate over the investigations and wide differences on legislation, this congress has accomplished more than was expected. Outstanding in the legislative achievements are:

Record of Congress. 1. A tax reduction bill which cuts the average man's burden in half, reduces taxes on higher incomes materially, and repeals many so-called "nuisance" taxes. 2. An immigration bill, whose Japanese exclusion provision brought sharp differences between Coolidge and congress. 3. The bonus bill, re-passed over the president's veto as were exposed by a senate investigation. 4. A child labor amendment to the constitution. 5. A bill reviving the veterans' bureau law, to prevent recurrence of the conditions as were exposed by a senate investigation. 6. Appropriation of $150,000,000 to increase the navy.

ATLANTA VETERAN VICTIM OF FALL AT REUNION, DIES

Memphis, June 6.—The second death in the ranks of veterans attending the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans occurred tonight when E. F. Small, 78, of the Soldiers' home in Atlanta, died of injuries received yesterday when he fell on a pavement.

Mr. Small left Atlanta Monday afternoon to attend the reunion in Memphis. Officials at the Old Soldiers' homes Friday night had not learned any of the details of the accident and knew but little of his story except that he had participated in the Virginia campaign and that he is survived by a daughter, Miss Fannie Small, of Atlanta.

U.S. World Fliers Leave Shanghai On 555-Mile Hop

Three American Aviators Begin Third Division of Circle Flight.

Shanghai, June 7.—The American round-the-world fliers left here Saturday morning for Amoy.

The American aviators, who were separated at Kagoshima, Japan, Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, and his mechanic, Lieutenant Leslie P. Arnold, being delayed by engine trouble, are together again for the first jump in the third division of their round-the-world flight, 555 miles from Shanghai to Amoy.

In this jump the three planes plan to cross Chekiang and the greater part of Fukien, two of the great provinces of China. They are just a month behind their original schedule. From Amoy they fly 300 miles to Hongkong.

HILL CASE OPINION NOT SATISFACTORY

Dr. Ballard, State School
Superintendent, Says
Napier Did Not Touch
Real Matter.

Dr. N. H. Ballard, state superintendent of schools, commenting Friday on the opinion issued this week by Attorney General George M. Napier in regard to the controversy between Dr. Ballard and Walter B. Hill, state supervisor of negro rural schools, declared the opinion had not touched the real matter in dispute.

"The question involved is not Mr. Hill's right of appeal to the state board of education," said Dr. Ballard; "it is my right to refuse to administer a fund sent here from another state, if I do not desire to do so."

Dr. Ballard said there could be no question of Mr. Hill's right of appeal to the state board of education in regard to holding his position. "The state board is, in fact, a recognized appellate body on educational matters in the state," he said.

Hill Not Discharged. He denied that Mr. Hill had been discharged. He admitted he had requested Mr. Hill's resignation, but said that Mr. Hill's position had gone when the general education board in New York had withdrawn the funds from Georgia out of which Mr. Hill's salary and office expenses are paid.

Dr. Ballard said he had not asked the general education board to withdraw this fund, but admitted it had been withdrawn following his request for Mr. Hill's resignation and the resultant controversy which had arisen. The state superintendent said he has written to Attorney General Napier for an opinion on whether the state law compelled him to administer the general education board's fund or not. He stated that, if the law allowed, he would refuse to handle this fund if it involved the acceptance of subordinates under whom he was not acceptable to him.

How Controversy Arose. The controversy arose when Mr. Hill, who has held the position of state supervisor of rural negro schools since 1917, refused to accede to Dr. Ballard's request for his resignation, with no reasons given, and demanded a hearing before the state board of education. This Dr. Ballard refused, according to Mr. Hill's statement, and the attorney general was then asked for his opinion, as it was understood, regarding the right of Mr. Hill to appeal to that board. This opinion, written early in the week, upheld Mr. Hill in his contention that he had the right to appeal to the state board.

The funds which maintain Mr. Hill's position, as well as a number of other positions in the educational work of the state, are sent here by the general education board of New York.

LEOPOLD CANCELS STEAMER TICKET

New York, June 6.—When the Cunard liner Mauretania pulls out for Europe next Wednesday, a wealthy young Chicagoan will be absent from the passenger list. He is unavoidably detained.

The Cunard line has received a telegram from Chicago cancelling the reservation for passage of Nathan Leopold, Jr., who recently automatically cancelled the European trip he had planned by confessing the murder of Robert Franks.

BY H. H. ROBERTSON.

Chicago, June 6.—Indicted for the kidnapping and murder of 13-year-old Robert Franks, and confronted with an alleged hostile public opinion, Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb began Friday to plan a move for the transfer of their trials to some other section of Illinois.

Despite efforts of Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the two self-confessed slayers, to keep the plan secret, it was learned from a source close to the prisoners that they had conferred with some members of their highly-paid legal staff and had expressed a wish to have the trials held elsewhere. Darrow is known to approve the plan.

Both Are Capital Crimes. The two indictments against each youth were returned before Chief Justice John R. Caverly Friday morning. One indictment charges murder, the other kidnapping for ransom, both hanging crimes. The murder indictment contained 11 counts and the kidnapping indictment 16 counts.

Immediately after the indictments were returned officers brought the two handcuffed young "intellectuals" into court for the hearing on writs of habeas corpus instituted by their attorneys last Monday, and upon which they had been taken from the custody of the police and turned over to the state.

15 KNOWN DEAD IN MINE BLAST

More Than Score Others
in Explosion of Gas
Pocket in Pennsylvania
Colliery.

Wilkes Barre, Pa., June 6.—Fifteen men are known to be dead and a score more were injured as the result of an explosion in the Loomis colliery of the Glen Alden Coal company in Hanover township today.

The explosion occurred in the bottom vein of No. 4 slope, No. 2 shaft, when sparks from a blast are believed to have ignited a heavy pocket of gas. Forty-one men were working in the section. Some of these made their way to the roof of the shaft, all more or less burned.

Rescue crews at once entered the workings, but their efforts were hampered by a serious fire and cave-in that followed the explosion. The colliery premises were besieged immediately after the explosion by relatives of the victims and thousands of curious.

In the afternoon an explosion occurred in the Truesdale colliery of the same company and one man was seriously burned.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Chicago, June 6.—Their millions will not be used to save Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Robert Franks, from the gallows, according to a joint statement issued tonight by the fathers of the accused youths, both Chicago millionaires.

"Only such defense as that to which every human being is entitled will be provided for their sons," the statement said. "Assuming that the facts in this case are substantially as published, then the only proceeding they favor is a simple, solemn investigation under the law, touching the mental responsibility of their accused sons."

Hire One More Lawyer.

There will be no legal counsel outside the attorneys now representing the accused, with one possible exception, the statement said, and no large sums will be spent for either legal or medical talent and "in no event will the families of the accused boys use money in any attempt to defeat justice."

The statement issued by Nathan F. Leopold, Sr., wealthy box manufacturer, and Albert H. Loeb, vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., was issued a few hours after their youthful sons, brilliant university students, had been indicted for murder and kidnapping for ransom, each crime punishable by death, in connection with the slaying of 13-year-old Robert Franks, son of another Chicago millionaire.

Text of Statement.

"In view of the many statements that large sums of money will be used in the defense of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb," the statement said, "the families of the accused boys desire to say that they have lived in Chicago for more than fifty years and the public can judge whether they have conducted themselves in their relations with this community."

Rev. A. E. Driggers has accepted a call to the Inman Park Presbyterian church, it was announced Friday. The new pastor has been studying at Emory university for the past year to obtain his M. A. degree and on several occasions has filled the Inman Park pulpit.

He was born near Darlington, S. C., and before coming to Atlanta served as Methodist chaplain at Clemson college for a year. Prior to this he was pastor at a Methodist church at Greenville for four years. He has been active in Sunday school work and young people's affairs.

Work has started on a new manse, and the new pastor will take up his duties at Inman Park immediately.

SON OF PROFESSOR AT BRENAU HELD AT ELLIS ISLAND

George Varkonyi, of Budapest, four-and-one-half years of age, son of Professor Bela Varkonyi, of Brenau college, is being held at Ellis Island, and efforts to obtain his release have failed to date.

George and his mother arrived in this country some time ago to join Professor Varkonyi, who is head of the piano department at Brenau. Mr. Varkonyi is a graduate of the Budapest Royal Academy of Music, was a professor in the Royal Academy at Budapest, from 1907 to 1923, and is author of numerous symphonies and other selections.

The aid of Senator W. J. Harris and Congressman Thomas Bell has been enlisted to secure the release of the boy.

TECH TRUSTEE BOARD HOLDS MEETING TODAY

With the meeting of the board of trustees today, commencement activities officially begin at Georgia Tech. Friends and relatives of the 260 old seniors are arriving, more alumni than ever before are expected for class reunions, and it is the prediction of Dr. M. L. Brittain that the 1924 commencement will be not only the largest, but also the best attended of any in the history of the college.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached at the Second Baptist church, at 11 o'clock, Sunday morning by Dr. Carter Helm Jones. The faculty and the senior class will march to the church, wearing caps and gowns. Seats will be reserved for relatives and friends of the seniors.

Commencement exercises will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning on the Georgia Tech campus. Dr. E. A. Winship, of Boston, will be commencement orator. The invocation will be delivered by Dr. J. S. Lyons. Former Governor N. E. Harris will make the closing address for the board of trustees to the graduates. John Staton will be class orator. Dr. Brittain will present the degrees.

YOUNG PEOPLE WILL GIVE DINNER TUESDAY

The three departments of the Young People's Division of the Second Baptist Sunday school, of which Mrs. Edwin L. Harling is superintendent, will hold a banquet at the church at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. The division is composed of boys and girls and young people, 12 to 24 years old. There will be several hundred present. The fourth grade junior boys and girls, and general and departmental superintendents will be honor guests.

"The Friendly Road" will be the theme. The program follows: "Milestones," S. M. White; "The Park in the Road," Mrs. Charles W. Outlaw; "Sign Posts," Dr. Louie D. Newton; "The Strangers in the Road," Dr. W. H. Faust; "The Destination," Dr. Carter Helm Jones. The Southern Division B. Y. P. U. quartet will sing "The Wayside Cross," and the Boys' High school orchestra will play.

LOS ANGELES BOY CHAMPION RATOR

Democratic Hosts Warned To Duck Go toham Slickers

Washington, June 6.—Don Tyler, of Los Angeles, Cal., was adjudged tonight the champion secondary school orator of the United States. Second and third honors went to Miss Ruth Newburn, of Washington, D. C., and John M. Dellam, of Philadelphia, respectively, in the "nation-wide" contest, which was brought to a conclusion at a meeting in Memorial Continental Hall, presided over by President Coolidge.

Five boys and two girls met in the final contest which, like the local and sectional contests, was held under the auspices of several of the larger newspapers of the country.

Wins $3,500 Check.

Tyler, who previously had won the Pacific coast championship, was awarded by the Los Angeles Times.

The first place award was a check for $3,500.

Miss Newburn was sponsored by The Washington Post. The second prize was $1,000. Dellam was sponsored by The Los Angeles Times and received an award of $500.

All of the orators were upon the general subject of "The Constitution."

In addition to the prize winners, the contestants were Jack Turner, Birmingham, Ala.; George Chumot, Topeka, Kan.; Eleanor Hubert, New York, N. Y.; and Vail Barnes, New Brighton, N. Y.

Justices Award Honors.

The contest was judged by Secretaries Hughes and Justices Van Devanter, Sanford, Sutherland and Butler, of the supreme court.

President Coolidge, in accepting the place of honorary presiding officer, made an address in which he discussed the constitution and various phases of its effects on American life. Robert E. Lee Sander, of Dallas, Texas, president of the American Bar association, introduced the speakers and presented the awards.

The duty resting upon the present generation to establish among the coming generation "the full conception of the obligation to reasonableness and moderation" was emphasized by President Coolidge in his address made as the presiding officer.

The president declared the American constitutional situation had justified itself not only in the nation's history, but the fact that it has been accepted as the model upon which so many later experiments in democratic republicanism have been based.

System Not Perfect.

"Impressive as have been the results of our experiment, gratifying as have been the tributes which imitation has paid, we realize that the system is not yet perfect," he continued.

"All forms of human organization must forever undergo the process of change, adaptation, evolution, to fit themselves to the changing needs of society. Civilization cannot stand still, the institutions under which it develops cannot remain unchanged. Change is inevitable and a minority, but a great capacity to direct that change in the right way."

"If we accept this postulate of the eternal mutability of institutions, then we will be able to realize how great a service is that of the men and women who would train the youth of the nation to understanding and interest in these institutions of our society."

He said that the youth of the nation, by training its future citizens for the duties which in their time they must perform, have a large portion of people who have believed that the way of progress was by way of destruction. They are commonly in a minority, but a distressingly active and determined minority. They would begin the reconstruction of human affairs by tearing down everything that has thus far been erected."

Waycross Develops Highway Improvements Valued at $403,000

Waycross, Ga., June 6.—(Special.) Four road projects totalling in cost $403,000 will be completed in Wayne county within the next 10 days, according to announcement by H. M. Pafford, division engineer of the state highway department.

These projects bridge the road from Waycross to the Satilla river at a cost of $55,000; the road from the bridge to the Bacon county line at a cost of $102,000; the road from Waycross to Brainerd at a cost of $116,000; the Black river bridge on the Waycross-Black river road at a cost of $120,000.

"A lady advised me to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I could see an improvement so purchased more, which completely healed him." (Signed) Mrs. Elizabeth Faulkner, R. D. 2, Coryton, Tenn.

MAIL SALARY RAISE NOW UP TO COOLIDGE

Washington, June 6.—The conference report on the postal salaries increase bill was approved today by the house and the measure was sent to the president.

It carries an average increase of about $300 for clerks, carriers, inspectors, supervisors and assistant postmasters. The bill also provides for public relations campaign expenditures. The house voted its approval, 362 to 6.

REPUBLICANS SUBMIT MINORITY OIL REPORT

Washington, June 6.—Five republican members of the oil committee today submitted to the senate a minority report dissenting from some of the views expressed in the majority report drawn up yesterday by the committee. The report was drawn up by Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, and gave notice that "mistakes and omissions and inferences of fact and law contained in the majority report will later be brought to the attention of the senate."

Besides Senator Spencer, those who signed the minority report were: Senator Stanford, Oregon; Cameron, Arizona; and Bursum, New Mexico. Senator Walsh gave notice today that he would ask the senate tomorrow to adopt formally the majority report.

The five senators complain that they had no adequate opportunity to examine the majority report, which they assert was "first presented" for their consideration on Wednesday.

700 ITALIANS SEEK TO BREAK QUOTAS TO BRING FAMILIES

Naples, Italy, June 6.—Seven hundred Italian passengers, arriving today from the United States on board the liner Colombo, made representations to Giuseppe de Michelis, Italian commissioner of emigration, to take steps through the Italian embassy at Washington to obtain permission for them to take their families back to America despite the recent United States supreme court ruling that their families must submit to the new quota regulations for the next year.

MISS JOHNSON HURT WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Miss Jewell Johnson, of 24 Chapel road, was badly bruised when she was struck down by a truck driven by F. L. Cooper, of 29 Oak Hill avenue, Friday night about 7 o'clock. The accident occurred at the corner of Alabama and Forsyth street when the victim was attempting to cross the street. This was the only automobile mishap reported during the day.

Forty-eight cases involving traffic violations were tried in police court Friday, fines being imposed on 41 defendants, and seven cases being dismissed. The total fines amounted to $338. Twelve persons were fined for speeding, three for reckless driving, of an automobile, and 26 for violating the traffic ordinance.

Officers docketed cases against 41 persons Friday, 23 of these being for violation of traffic laws, nine for speeding, seven for reckless driving and two for drunk and driving an automobile.

TAXICAB DRIVER REPORTS ROBBERY

After directing him to drive his car beyond the city limits, two unidentified men held up and robbed A. D. Meek, a taxi driver, of 133 Cleburne avenue, of his valuables and a small sum of money about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Poole, according to Call Officers W. A. Goode and W. E. Bullard, received a call to come to Courtland and Cain streets. At this point he picked up three men who directed him to drive out Peachtree road.

Just after passing Brookwood station, one of the passengers who appeared to be drunk, Poole stated, began screaming to let him out. When the driver opened the door of the taxicab, the apparently drunk man was ejected by the other two who placed a pistol in Poole's side and demanded that he drive the car beyond the city limits. At this point he was relieved of his money and valuables and directed by the two men to drive off while they caught an inbound street car. Poole stated.

Poole furnished the police with a description of the men he claimed robbed him and a search is being made for them.

SEN. HARRIS LOSES BATTLE AGAINST BEACH FOR NEGROES

Washington, June 6.—(Special.)—The senate refused to agree to the amendment of Senator Harris, of Georgia, which would have stopped the building of a bathing beach for negroes near the white bathing beach in the tidal basin here. Senator George voted for the Harris amendment.

Original proposals called for a bathing beach near the white beach, but as the result of the fight waged by Senator Harris and other senators, it has been moved nearly a mile away. Democratic senators from the northern states joined with republicans to defeat the Harris amendment, which would have held up the whole matter of a negro bathing beach.

Final agreement on the conference report of the interior department appropriation bill showed that Senators Overman and Harris had won their fight to prevent a half-million-dollar appropriation for a building of Howland university, a negro school in North Carolina, because there was no authority in law for the school. Other items for the school were put into the bill because of the combined support of republican senators and northern democrats.

SEN. HARRIS LOSES BATTLE AGAINST BEACH FOR NEGROES

Washington, June 6.—(Special.)—The senate refused to agree to the amendment of Senator Harris, of Georgia, which would have stopped the building of a bathing beach for negroes near the white bathing beach in the tidal basin here. Senator George voted for the Harris amendment.

Original proposals called for a bathing beach near the white beach, but as the result of the fight waged by Senator Harris and other senators, it has been moved nearly a mile away. Democratic senators from the northern states joined with republicans to defeat the Harris amendment, which would have held up the whole matter of a negro bathing beach.

Final agreement on the conference report of the interior department appropriation bill showed that Senators Overman and Harris had won their fight to prevent a half-million-dollar appropriation for a building of Howland university, a negro school in North Carolina, because there was no authority in law for the school. Other items for the school were put into the bill because of the combined support of republican senators and northern democrats.

DR. JAMES BAIRD DIES HERE FRIDAY

Dr. James B. Baird, 75, pioneer Atlantan and prominent physician, died at 10 o'clock Friday morning at his apartment at the Georgian Terrace after an illness of less than one month.

In February Dr. Baird suffered a breakdown and was forced to abandon active practice of medicine, which he had pursued in Atlanta for 53 years. He never fully recovered his strength after the breakdown, and three weeks ago members of his family noticed a decline in his physical condition which alarmed them. This grew worse rapidly, the end coming quietly Friday morning.

Announcement of his death came as a distinct shock to his host of friends in Atlanta and all over the south. Throughout this section he was known for his sound judgment, marked ability and success in the practice of medicine and as an uncompromising exponent of highest ethics in his profession. In social, civic and business activities of the city he held a leading position.

Many years ago when vaccination was first introduced, Dr. Baird was first in urging and influencing a skeptical public to embrace and resort to this method. Pioneer citizens, who remember the early struggles of Dr. Baird, Friday related many instances when his heart was touched by poverty of stricken citizens to whom he administered without charge, and many stories were related of his charitable work during his long practice in this city.

During his long and distinguished career Dr. Baird received many honors from the profession. He was for several years professor of principles and practice of medicine and dean of the faculty of Southern Medical college. Later was a member of the faculty of the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons, now the medical department of Emory university; served as president, secretary and director of the Georgia Medical association and was one of the first members of the Atlanta board of health; served as member of the board of medical examiners of Georgia, had been a member of the board of trustees of the state sanitarium at Milledgeville and was a member of the American Medical society and the Georgia Medical association.

He was identified with the Grady hospital for a number of years, serving on the board of visiting physicians and being prominently connected with the hospital's organization and management for many years.

Dr. Baird was born January 5, 1849, in Columbus, Ga., was graduated from the Bellevue Hospital Medical college, New York, in 1871, and came to Atlanta, where he practiced his profession until his death. In 1879 he was married to Miss Lizzie Burke Gattrell, and is survived by Mrs. Harold G. Russell, of New York; Dr. James B. Baird, Jr., of Atlanta; and Stewart Baird, of Jacksonville, his three children by that marriage.

DR. JAMES B. BAIRD.

Following the death of Mrs. Baird, in 1898, Dr. Baird was married in 1901 to Mrs. Annie Raine Mynatt, who died a few years later. There were no children.

The remains were taken Friday afternoon to the residence of Dr. James B. Baird, Jr., 645 West Peachtree street, to remain until this afternoon.

Funeral services will be held from the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son this afternoon at 4 o'clock with interment in West View cemetery. Dr. C. B. Wilmer, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, will officiate.

Confederate Host Surrenders Memphis to Its Owners

Gray Reunion Ends With Long Parade—Brilliant Ball Is Last Entertainment Feature.

Memphis, Tenn., June 6.—Flags were furled and drums were muffled tonight as the Confederate legion surrendered this historic city perched on the Chickasaw bluffs and marched out into the night with the brilliant pageant of their thirty-fourth reunion behind them.

For many of the old veterans who wore the gray and endured with watchless courage the four long years of hardship, it was the last reunion. For them the "muffled drum" and roll has beat the soldiers' last tattoo and they were going home to rest in the shades of life's evening and await the summons to join their comrades in the bivouac of the dead. But for most of them the reunion seemed only another little marker to remind them that they had drawn a step nearer to that final "assembly," from which there is no "retreat."

The ebb of the great gray tide was marked today with a parade and pageant which presented a spectacle unequalled in the history of the city. Two miles of humanity formed a lane through which the hosts of the Confederacy marched to the rhythm of a score of bands. With the stars and bars on the left sharing honors with "Old Glory" on the right, the vast column crawled through the lanes of cheering thousands for three hours. At the front of the huge parade, rode General W. B. Haldeman, commander-in-chief of the U. S. V., with his staff. They were followed by the staffs of a number of state veterans organizations in automobiles.

Two detachments of veterans on foot, halting step, but with heads erect, the gray old men plodded the long weary way of the parade crawling like a monster serpent through the downtown area. First came company "B," remnant of a Tennessee infantry regiment. It was followed by "A," of Forrest's cavalry.

As the detachment, headed by Lieutenant R. H. Reid, of Nashville, and color bearer, J. P. Funk, marched past the reviewing stand, thousands of lusty voices shouted the famous "rebel yell" and the cry was echoed back to them from those old men in gray.

Tattered Georgia flag. Behind them came several hundred of their comrades in gray, riding in automobiles. From the top of a huge truck, a grizzled survivor of the 42nd Georgia infantry waved a tattered and torn battle flag. The old banner, little more than a handful of shreds, was stained with blood and torn to tatters by enemy shells.

Following in the wake of the men in gray—just as they followed them in the march of life—were several hundred members of the American Legion, uniformed in the khaki of a reunited country. Behind these came a detachment of marines, disabled veterans of the World war in automobiles, and veterans of the Spanish-American war.

The next section of the parade was made up of automobiles bearing the sponsorships of the various departments, the sons of veterans and their sponsors, members of the Confederate Southern Memorial association, the Confederate Chivalry organization, various patriotic organizations participating in the reunion.

Negroes Had Place. Space in the parade was allotted the handful of faithful old negroes who attended the reunion. Among them was the Rev. Mack Lee, of Virginia, a servant of General Robert E. Lee, "Colonel" Divinity, of Mississippi, confessed champion chicken thief of the Confederate army, with a startled rooster under his arm, and two aged negroes who served as cooks in Forrest's cavalry.

The Confederate navy was represented by a huge float bearing a replica of the "Alabama," flagship of Admiral Raphael Semmes, which was sunk by the "Kearsarge" in one of the famous engagements of the war. The float, of Jacksonville, Fla., rode on the bridge of the "vessel" while a group of men dressed in sailor garb thronged the decks. The "Alabama" was accorded much applause as it floated along the line of the parade.

The last sections of the mammoth pageant were made up of miscellaneous patriotic and civic bodies, the R. O. T. C. cadets, Boy Scouts and school children.

Cameras Greet Beauties. As the parade wound its way through the streets the bands, placed at intervals throughout the long column, played the familiar southern airs which the men in gray had heard in the sixties. "Maryland, Maryland," with "Dixie" and the "Bonnie Blue Flag," while the old plantation songs, peculiar to the southern negroes, aroused much of the fading memories of other days. The Confederate choir participated in the musical program, singing a number of southern hymns, and a choir from Washington voiced the appreciation of the throngs of visitors for the reunion program by singing "Memphis, We Love You."

Cameras halted the parade when the automobile bearing the sponsors of the Dallas, Texas, camp, winners of the Texas beauty prize, approached the reviewing stand. The Georgia "Ponches" who won the beauty prize at the reunion in New Orleans last year were among other delegations of sponsors who drew applause and the clicking of camera shutters.

Members of the Georgia staff sprinkled the crowd with Georgia "goobers."

Mrs. Austin Peay, wife of Governor Peay, of Tennessee, the queen of honor of the second Tennessee brigade, headed the Tennessee veterans with her sponsor and maids of honor.

Hundreds of the veterans and reunion visitors left for their homes tonight, while others remained for the grand march and ball at the civic auditorium. The ball was a brilliant affair, featured by its awakening of the chivalrous spirit of the old south.

The grand march was led by General and Mrs. Haldeman.

VETERANS ARRIVING TO DEDICATE OBELEISK. Hopkinsville, Ky., June 6.—A special train of Confederate veterans from the reunion at Memphis will arrive here at 7:45 a. m. tomorrow to attend dedication of the Jefferson Davis obelisk at Fairview, near here. On the train will be General W. B. Haldeman, commander-in-chief of the veterans, and his staff. Governor Fields, who will come here from Murray, is expected to be on the same train.

The veterans will be taken from here to Fairview in automobiles. At the monument a dinner will be served to the visitors preceding the dedication ceremony.

The first veteran to arrive today was J. M. Conway, of Millersburg, Ky., who drove 300 miles to attend the dedication. Following him came J. K. Taylor, from Greensburg, Kan.

Counties' Efforts To Evade Gas Tax Brings Censure

A reported effort on the part of several counties to buy gasoline for their own use outside the state and thus avoid payment of the 3 cents per gallon sales tax, was unanimously condemned by officials at the state capitol Friday.

The counties which, it is understood, have such a plan under consideration include Bibb and Sumter, and it was proposed by R. P. Scarborough, a Macon oil broker, and Comptroller General William A. Wright declared counties which follow this suggestion will set a bad example by using a technicality to avoid payment of a state tax.

"They should also remember their actual saving is only one cent per gallon, inasmuch as two cents of the tax goes back to the counties for roads," said General Wright. "I will do my best to collect the tax from someone," he added, "as my commission requires me to do. Of course, the counties are not expected to pay a dealer's tax, when they do not sell the gasoline, but the seller ought to be forced to pay it at the source."

Attorney General George M. Napier admitted the possibility that, under the present working of the law, evasion of the tax in this manner was possible, but took the same general view of the matter as General Wright.

HEARING CLOSED IN CEMETERY CASE

Whether or not a permit granted by Fulton county commissioners to O. E. Etheridge and associates to establish a cemetery in Oak Grove district, near Sandy Springs cemetery, is legal and valid was the question submitted to Judge E. D. Thomas Friday afternoon following two days of argument.

Judge Thomas took the case under advisement stating that a decision probably would be handed down next week.

Attorneys E. Marvin Underwood, James L. Mayson and James A. Branch argued the case for the petitioners, who are property owners in the affected district. They oppose the cemetery on the ground that they did not have notice it was to be established and that it will decrease the value of their holdings in that section.

Attorney Mayson, representing the City of Atlanta, one of the petitioners, told the court that the city's water supply would be polluted by drainage from the cemetery lot into the Chattahoochee river, which furnishes the city's water supply.

The alleged illegality of the permit granted by the county commissioners, "being without notice to affected citizens, and in fact no permit because granted without opportunity for a hearing," was the point mainly argued by Attorneys Branch and Underwood.

Defendant Attorney Charles B. Sheldon and former Mayor Key, represented the defendants, consisting of the commissioners, Etheridge, and Commissioner C. G. Turner, individually. They based their argument on the contention that the commissioners were not required to advertise the application for permit, that it was regularly granted, and that the grantees had as much right to establish the proposed cemetery as other persons had to establish Sandy Springs cemetery in the same neighborhood.

The main contention against the legality of the permit is that Commissioner Turner, who voted for it, is personally interested in the cemetery.

Child Labor Bill Called Invasion Of State Rights

The amendment to the federal constitution recently passed by congress, proposing to place the regulation of child labor in the hands of that body, was characterized by Attorney General George M. Napier, of Georgia, Friday as a "rank invasion of state rights."

This proposed amendment, Mr. Napier declared, should arouse the people of Georgia to action.

"Every cotton-picker, cook and maid will come under congressional regulation if such an amendment is adopted by the states, and such regulation, I am confident, would prove detrimental to the interests of the state."

"The Georgia legislature will be the first state body to have a chance to act on this proposed amendment," the attorney general said, "and action should be taken by that body looking towards its defeat."

WATKINS URGED FOR SOLICITOR

Opposition to Solicitor General John A. Boykin, by Judge Garland M. Watkins, of the juvenile court of Fulton county, in the 1924 election, loomed as a strong probability Friday when a large delegation of lawyers of the Atlanta bar called upon Judge Watkins, urging him to make the race.

On three occasions during the week he has been importuned by lawyers and laymen to enter the contest, it became known Friday.

The juvenile court judge refused to discuss the matter when seen by a Constitution reporter. "I regret that I am not in a position to discuss the matter at this time," he said.

Judge Watkins has been judge of the juvenile court of Fulton county since 1920, prior to which time he was engaged in law practice in Atlanta. Mr. Boykin was first elected as solicitor general of the Atlanta circuit in 1916, succeeding Hugh M. Dorsey.

Constitution Insurance-- Dollar for a Rainy Day

A dollar for a rainy day. That's the plan of The Constitution's $1,000 Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance offer—involving a dollar investment that may yield returns a thousandfold.

Here's an interesting case in point to be added to the scores of others previously cited in which Constitution insurance has proved a blessing in time of emergency:

R. W. MacLagan, of 78 East 98th street, while driving his automobile, was injured when another car crashed into his own. Three bones in his left hand were broken, and he was totally disabled for a little over four weeks.

He was the holder of a $1,000 Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance policy issued through The Constitution and, under its provisions, received a check for $48.28. The common-sense of his investment in this policy is shown by the fact that he paid only $1 for it. In addition to the regular subscription rate of his Daily and Sunday Constitution. This policy provides $1,000 protection against death in certain specified accidents, varying sums for injuries and $10 weekly in case of disability. It costs only $1 per year in addition to the subscription rates of The Constitution.

Another splendid protective investment offered by The Constitution is the $500 Group Reader Life Insurance policy, which costs only 15 to 20 cents per week—depending on the risk involved. It is the only straight life insurance offer made by an Atlanta newspaper.

Every man who has the interest of his loved ones at heart, will be interested in one of these unparalleled economic opportunities. A phone call, a letter or a visit to The Constitution's insurance department will bring full details.—(adv.)

ON DANGEROUS GROUND.

The city council of Atlanta, in adjourned session Thursday afternoon, voted a restoration of the water rates to the high level in effect to June 1, and a special election on a one-mill tax increase in September, subject to authorization by the general assembly.

With the operation of the schools during the fall and winter months threatened by a lack of available funds, the water increase, plus a few scattering economies in public improvements already provided in the budget, were jointly agreed upon for the purpose of furnishing sufficient funds to keep the schools open in September and October. The proposed one-mill increase is for the purpose of carrying the schools through November and December, whereupon the appropriation already made for schools is supposed to take hold.

What is the great city of Atlanta coming to when a situation such as now confronts it becomes possible? Already the total of the various and sundry taxes is around 3 1/2 per cent ad valorem with inside city assessments brought almost to a par. Money in the savings bank is only worth 3 per cent, and yet we wonder that people hide their treasures, or invest outside of Atlanta, or in tax exempt bonds, when the bank earning power of money is more than confiscated by excessive taxation.

The city, county and state millage combined in Atlanta, on the assessments now employed, together with the added high rates of utilities, make home-ownership difficult for the people of moderate incomes, and yet it penalizes the tenants of both residence and business property.

It is a condition that is becoming unbearable. And yet the proposition comes to increase the water rate and to add another mill to the tax rate.

Excessive taxes will operate against any city, in more ways than those of an economic nature. The home-owner, be he laborer or professional man or financier, is a better citizen by reason of that fact. He takes a keener interest in the affairs of his city and state. Home ownership is encouraged for moral and cultural reasons as well as for economic reasons. And yet, with "home ownership" campaigns and devices made every once in a while in Atlanta, the tendency to increase taxes is directed acutely against this high and inspiring ideal.

Outside capital, seeking investment in any city, is apprehensive of any situation such as confronts Atlanta today. Taxes are not only high—confiscatingly high—but are advancing. This is a lack of stability that naturally frightens capital which is always timid in the hands of conservative investors.

There must be a stop to the present tendency, or Atlanta will find herself against rows of empty houses and empty storerooms, while the outlying suburbs will necessarily become the mecca of the fleeing victims. This will produce a local condition that will injure the city, and precipitate a deflation that will strike at thousands of citizens, directly and indirectly.

The grade crossings still contribute to the casualty lists of the country. Taxes must be reduced by economies instead of increased by extravagancies. Business methods must apply in the departments of government. This business of spending money that is not in sight on the theory that a tax increase will supply the deficit is unsafe, unsound, radical and alarmingly dangerous.

Still, a hammock under a shady tree, on a hot June day, only makes one miss the mint julep more.

Singing of June-time.
I
Junetime's singin' to the field an' to the town.
"Till give you the sun
And the rose-sweet rain;
Blue skies to bless you,
Honey-cups to drain,
That's what the June-time's singin'!"

II
"The songbirds are calling
To come to the gardens
Where she'll wait for you,
And the world's the lightest

That's what the June-time's singin'!

Newspaper Men Guests at Dinner Of the Biltmore

The management of the Atlanta Biltmore hotel was host Friday night to newspapermen of the three Atlanta newspapers, the banquet marking the first gathering in the hotel since reaching completion.

William Candler, vice president of the hotel company, announced to the fifty or more assembled newspapermen that the final touches to the hotel had just been made by the contractors, who this morning will turn the hotel over to the management with all construction work ended.

Fuzzy Woodruff, city editor of The Georgian, acted as toastmaster. After an elaborate menu was served by the hotel's culinary experts, addresses were made by prominent members of the profession. Principal speakers were John Paschal, managing editor of The Journal; F. A. Wilson-Lawrence, publisher of The Georgian; Clark Howell, Jr., business manager of The Constitution; A. B. Chivers, business manager of The Georgian; Lloyd A. Wilhoit, city editor of The Constitution; Hunter Bell, assistant city editor of The Journal; James R. Nevin, editor of The Georgian; W. M. Baskerville, managing editor of The Georgian; George Condon, sporting editor of The Constitution; William Candler, Holland Jenkins and W. C. Royer, manager and assistant manager of the Biltmore, respectively; Claud Neely, Paul Stevenson and Ernest Rogers, Jr., editors of the department of justice, and others.

Coalition Tries To Cut Off Money To Beat Millerand

Paris, June 6.—As a new move in their campaign to oblige President Millerand, resign, the radical socialist coalition decided today to try to cut off the government's money resources. This decision was reached after several conferences in which the leaders of the coalition, balked by the president's counter moves to their offensive, considered means of overcoming his stout resistance.

The communists in the chamber of deputies took the initiative in active front against the president today by presenting a resolution demanding the resignation of the chief executive. This, however, was ruled unconstitutional. After this had been rejected, the radical socialists introduced a bill providing for repeal of the section of the constitution which provides for a biennial budget. The introducers then asked for the immediate naming of a committee of 44 members to consider their measure.

There were many objections to this procedure because of the lack of a government in office representing the political complexion of the present parliament, but President Painlevé put the motion to consider it, which was adopted by a show of hands.

NORTH CAROLINA CHOOSES STATE OFFICIALS TODAY

Raleigh, N. C., June 6.—With election officials predicting tonight the heaviest vote in the history of the state, voters of North Carolina will go to the polls tomorrow in the primary to name the state officers, nominees for a full state of state officers, three congressmen and a full complement of state senators and representatives. It will be the first time women have had a chance to vote in a primary where state officers are being contested. Only one republican contest will be voted on tomorrow, in the 20th senatorial district, where John C. McRae is opposed to J. F. Burgeson for the republican nomination for state senate.

Chief interest centered tonight in the contest for the democratic nomination for governor, with Angus Wilson McLean, of Lumberton, N. C., former chairman of the war finance corporation and former assistant secretary of the treasury, and Joseph William Bailey, of Raleigh, former collector of internal revenue, the contestants. Both have made active campaigns throughout the state and managers for both candidates in state-ments issued last night expressed confidence in the outcome of tomorrow's balloting.

SMALL BOYS CAUSED B. & A. EXPRESS WRECK

Worcester, Mass., June 6.—Two small boys caused the wreck of the Twilight Express on the Boston & Albany railroad here last Tuesday afternoon, in which three persons were killed, according to police detectives. The officers announced today that Robert Horie, 8 years old, and Michael Feroleo, 6, had confessed that they placed stones on the rails.

Savannah Team Wins.

Macon, Ga., June 6.—In first all to injured contests put on here tonight by the Southern Bell Telephone company teams from several Georgia cities, Savannah won first prize.

Pennsylvanian Takes Wet Plank To G.O.P. Council

Cleveland, Ohio, June 6.—That an attempt will be made to force a "wet" plank in the republican national platform which is to be adopted here next week was made known Friday night with the arrival of Ralph Beaver Strassburger, who was elected a delegate-at-large to the Cleveland convention by a majority of more than 200,000 over Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania.

Almost immediately after his arrival in the city, Beaver announced he would introduce the plank. Within a few minutes, many national republican leaders hastened to predict that the move would meet with instant defeat.

"Congress has failed to meet the prohibition or any other issue squarely," Strassburger said. "If the convention attempts to push out on this issue, the republican party will lose not only New York but other eastern states which will be vital in November."

Republican leaders refused to be excited by the Strassburger utterances, however.

REPLY TO JAP PROTEST VIRTUALLY COMPLETED

Washington, June 6.—The reply to the Japanese protest against the exclusion section of the new immigration law has been virtually completed at the state department, but there are no indications as to when it will go forward.

Secretary Hughes had a conference with President Coolidge today, but it was not disclosed what plans had been determined upon as to making the new document public. In the usual course it would be made public under agreement between the two countries, after its text had reached Tokyo.

The reply probably will be handled by Secretary Hughes to Ambassador Hanabusa, to whom the task of framing it to his government will be entrusted. At the same time copy will be exhibited to the American embassy in Tokyo in order that the embassy staff may be kept fully in touch with every development of the situation.

Officials at the state department made it known today that the communication, it can be said definitely, however, that it will be couched in the most friendly terms, but will repel any suggestion that the exclusion provision contravenes any international obligation assumed by the Washington government.

It appeared probable today that the Japanese protest would be handled by Ambassador Hanabusa possibly tomorrow. It must be noted at the Japanese embassy for transmission and for return under reasonable conditions of stolen property taken across the international border by exchange of information as to names of activities of persons known to be engaged in violation of narcotic laws; and of government officials of one country as witness in the other, and for mutual extradition rights in the case of violators of the narcotic laws of the two countries.

conceivable. It would seem now that Lowden's only chance of escaping the nomination would be by issuing a formal statement asking withdrawal of his name before the balloting begins. Barring this contingency, he probably will be nominated, and if so, he will accept.

Administration leaders were considerably disconcerted when the active drift to Lowden was misinterpreted as being due to Lewis Coolidge. There already is considerable complaint because most of the convention's work already has been done and Coolidge does not want to aggravate it.

PACT WITH CANADA TO CURB BRUM TRADE

Washington, June 6.—A treaty designed to suppress smuggling of liquor and narcotics across the Canadian boundary was signed here today by representatives of the American and Canadian governments.

The agreement, which has been under negotiation for several months, was signed for the United States by Secretary Hughes and for Canada by Ernest LaPointe, the Canadian minister of justice.

The groundwork for the treaty was worked out at the Ottawa conference, participated in by representatives of the treasury and state department and by officials of the Canadian departments concerned with enforcement of the liquor and narcotic laws. Officials here expect it to result in a marked improvement in conditions along the border where many cases of smuggling have been reported.

The convention is to take effect ten days after the exchange of ratifications and to remain in force for one year with termination thereafter on 30 days' notice.

Each government under the new pact is to furnish information upon request to officials of the other regarding clearances of vessels or the transportation of cargoes, shipments or loads of articles across the international boundary when the importation of the articles transported by land is subject to the payment of duties.

Information also is to be exchanged regarding clearances of vessels to any ports when there is ground to suspect that the owners of the cargo plan to smuggle it into the territory of the other government.

Clearances are to be denied to vessels carrying cargo consisting of commodities, the importation of which is prohibited by either country, when ever it is evident from the tonnage or other characteristics of the vessel that the ship would be unable to carry the cargo to the destination proposed in the application for clearance.

Alaskan Treaty

The treaty also takes care of the controversial point as to shipment of liquor across Alaskan territory from the western Canadian provinces to the Yukon region. It provides that liquor transported under the laws of the United States shall be applicable to alcoholic liquors, vessels or persons by reason of the carriage in transit under a valid nautical guard through the territorial waters of the United States to Skagway, Alaska, and thence by the shortest route to Canadian territory. Liquor so transported must be kept under seal continuously while in the American territorial waters.

Under sections of the treaty providing for return under reasonable conditions of stolen property taken across the international border by exchange of information as to names of activities of persons known to be engaged in violation of narcotic laws; and of government officials of one country as witness in the other, and for mutual extradition rights in the case of violators of the narcotic laws of the two countries.

sheriff in the county jail, Justice Caverly dismissed the petitions and ordered the youths returned to jail. He then ordered capias issued for the formal arrests of both defendants and fixed the time of the arraignment for 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning.

SHACKLED BEFORE BAR

In shackles and standing before the bar, with the knowledge that they were formally charged with one of the most revolting offenses in the history of American criminal jurisprudence, the multi-millionaires' sons were a dejected pair. Leopold, looking haggard and worn, with heavy-lidded eyes, shifted about nervously. Loeb appeared to be in more cheerful spirits, his companion. He frequently closed his eyes and shuddered.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, announced that following the arraignment next Wednesday he would ask that the trial date be fixed not later than July 15. This move, according to plans made by Darrow and his associates, will precipitate a fight for a change of venue. At the conference during which it was decided to try to have the trial removed from Cook county, possibly to some downstate section, there was talk of precedent set by attorney for Will J. Davis, following the Iroquois theater fire, and the more recent action taken by counsel for Governor Len Small. The Davis case was taken from Chicago to Danville and the Small case from Springfield to Waukegan. It is understood that Danville, as a trial place, would be satisfactory to defense counsel.

WILL OBJECT TO BAIL

During their frequent conferences with their attorneys, Loeb and Leopold have lamented the not so strange fact that "public opinion seemed to be against them." Loeb said that some of the prisoners with whom he has come into contact since his transfer to murderers' row at the county jail seemed to shun him.

Learning of the intention of defense counsel to get a change of venue, Crowe sent out some of his assistants with photographers and had pictures taken of all scenes throughout the city connected with the murder of the Franks boys. He also was in conference late Friday on a move to circumvent a possible court fight for the slayers' release on bail.

Although the grand jury recommended that Leopold and Loeb be held without bail, it is possible to effect their release, under the Illinois laws, Crowe said. He intends to fight such a move as he wants the two to stay in their cells until the time of trial.

Atlanta Golfers Embark For Southern Meet Today

Louisville, Ky., June 6.—(Special.) Southern golfers yesterday watched with dismay the departure of Bobby Jones as national golf champion will center their attention next week on Louisville where Perry Adair, another peerless Atlanta golfer, will defend his title of southern champion in the Dixie tournament which opens Tuesday.

The southern tournament will be played over the course of the Louisville Country Club. The defending champion is a son of George W. Adair, for whom the memorial cup is named. Adair won the championship last year only after the hardest kind of fight. His chances to repeat this year depend on his ability to meet even stronger competition than was offered him last year, since the field this year is considered of much higher order.

Approximately 150 golfers from eight or more states comprising the southern section entered this year's renewal. Besides this number it is estimated that around the same number of local lights will be found in the qualifying round.

The Louisville Country club, befitting the occasion, is making sweeping preparations to take care of the influx of celebrities. Both in a golfing and social manner is this true. Plans for the entertainment of the visitors have been laid and everything is ready waiting the arrival of the golfers.

Brown Hotel Headquarters.
The first influx of visitors will start early Sunday. However, the bulk of the golfers will pour in here Monday. The Southern Golf association will establish headquarters at the Brown hotel for the entire tournament. Practically all of the visiting golfers will stay at the Brown hotel during the journey here.

Louisville has manifested extreme interest in the tournament. Realizing that the southern amateur tournament is one of the four big golf events of the year, the Louisville people are determined to do everything in their power to make the stay of the visitors a pleasant one. This marks the first time the Southern has been held here in 15 years.

Thousands of fans will follow the tournament play and closely watch the developments of the event.

The largest band of golfers from a single city, coming here for the tournament, is that from Atlanta, Ga. Practically forty golf enthusiasts from Atlanta will make the journey. They will come here in two special Pullman cars, arriving at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Besides this party there are contingents coming from Nashville, Chattanooga, Knoxville, Birmingham, New Orleans, Charlotte, N. C.; Asheville, N. C.; Dallas and Miami.

Many other southern cities also will be represented. Kentucky, particularly, will come from Lexington, Winchester, Mt. Sterling, Owensboro, Middletown, Covington and other points.

The entertainment program in honor of the visiting golfers provides many interesting features. Chief of these is the dinner Tuesday night at the Louisville Country club. This is for the visiting golfers, writers and board of directors of the association. James C. Wilson, president of the Louisville Country club, will preside at the dinner.

The club will give a dance on Wednesday evening for the visitors and also for the local entrants. This concludes the large entertainments, for the committee and the writers are coming here determined to perform at their best and will not wish to waste valuable energy on pleasure with a championship at stake.

Golfers wishing to get acquainted with the Louisville Country club course will find it open to visitors from now until the start of the tournament. Any golfer who practices on the club Monday in preparation for the opening of the tournament. Out-of-town golfers will be granted all the courtesies of the course upon arrival, so that they may get the "lay of the land," previous to the tournament's start.

Quality On Tuesday.
While the tournament schedule has been completed as yet, the qualifying round will start at 9:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning. According to a telegram from President Smith, of the Southern Golf association, the qualifying round will be accepted until starting time of that round.

Fans here are extremely anxious to get a view of the famous Perry Adair. Adair's memorial trophy, upon which the name of the winning player is engraved, is the southern trophy stands fully four feet in height and is made of solid silver. It is the most handsome and artistic golf trophy in the United States.

The winner, in addition to having his name engraved on the trophy, receives a miniature trophy of the design of the memorial trophy.

There are also trophies for low scores.

The local committee on arrangements for the southern expressed high appreciation over the hearty cooperation and support given by all the city's golf clubs and their members.

According to Ralph Strother, it is quite likely that the cancellation of the tournament will probably be played over the Audubon Country club course. This and several similar questions will be settled with the arrival Monday of President H. F. Smith.

Visiting golfers will be well taken care of in getting to and from the Louisville Country club course. According to the plans of the arrangement, each golfer will be given his own automobile to go to the Brown hotel, where visiting golfers will put up during the tournament, each morning I load up with the golfers.

The visiting golfers will be taken to a given portion of the Brown hotel and they will be taken to the country club each morning and returned late in the evening or at night.

Jack Lawler Is Killed in Omaha

Alabama Sheriff, Judge and Justice Of Peace Indicted
Jasper, Ala., June 6.—Sheriff Guy O'Rear, of Walker county, is indicted on five charges and recommended for impeachment, while Judge Carl Shepherd, of the Jasper city court, and J. R. Mooney, a justice of the peace, were indicted on charges of extortion by a special jury which submitted its report here today.

Judge R. L. Blanton, Shepherd and Mooney, both resigned following the grand jury's action.

O'Rear was indicted for alleged embezzlement, perjury, accepting bribes, false pretense and extortion. The grand jury also indicted him on charges of extortion, for which he charged the state for food for prisoners which was not bought nor fed.

Harwell G. Davis, attorney general of Alabama, ordered the grand jury to return a bill of indictment against O'Rear, to conduct it. The attorney general will now file impeachment proceedings with the supreme court and O'Rear will be tried before that tribunal.

Sheriff O'Rear maintains he is innocent and that his strict enforcement of prohibition and anti-salo laws are the only blame for the charges against him.

The Rules of Golf

—By—
Innis Brown

PLAYING PROVISIONAL BALL.

Whenever a player drives a ball onto ground where it is liable to become lost, or if it lands so near a boundary that he is unable to tell whether it stopped in bounds or out, the rules of golf give him the privilege of playing a provisional ball, in order to save time in case the first becomes lost or is found out of bounds. To just what limit this privilege applies is a matter of confusion to many golfers.

Compared to the earliest codes this may be said to be a rather recent provision as it allows a player to play a second ball only if he is unable to find the first or if it is found out of bounds. The first is believed to be, regardless of the number of strokes he takes, and yet retain the privilege of playing out the hole with the first ball, if it is found in bounds, disregarding, of course, all strokes played with the provisional ball. Also, provided there is no doubt about a first provisional ball, he may play a second or more of them.

Explanations.
If suppose a player drives into rough and, realizing that the ball may be lost, decides to play a second while one is eventually taken out of the hole in getting to where the first was seen to drop. Can he go on playing out the hole with the first, if it is found in bounds, or must he count stroke with that ball number two?

Yes.
A player drives and his ball lands near a bunker. He plays a second ball and it also lands near the line. He then plays a third ball, and on coming up finds the second ball in bounds. Can he continue play with it? If so, what strokes must he count up to his second with that ball?

The player must continue with the second. The count as the ball lies is three. He must count the stroke and distance on his first ball, and his second stroke shot was the third stroke of his count.

If any golf rules puzzle you, write Innis Brown, care of The Constitution Sporting Editor, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope. He'll clear them for you.

FOR A BETTER SCORE.
The proposition of how to get the proper line for hitting the ball on the golf course is one that puzzles many golfers, when there is any roll in the ground to be encountered. Of course, judgment of the speed of the green and the line of the surface is essential, and these can be gotten only by practice and observation. Here is a tip that it may be well to bear in mind. After you have figured out the line, try to make it a definite spot no more than a foot away from the ball over which you want it to pass, and try to put exactly over that spot. The ball and this spot give you the line of initial travel. The speed of the green and the hitting force back of the ball will govern largely how far it will vary from that line further along.

Greenville, S. C., June 6.—A special jury today indicted Sheriff Guy O'Rear, of Walker county, on five charges and recommended for impeachment, while Judge Carl Shepherd, of the Jasper city court, and J. R. Mooney, a justice of the peace, were indicted on charges of extortion by a special jury which submitted its report here today.

Judge R. L. Blanton, Shepherd and Mooney, both resigned following the grand jury's action.

O'Rear was indicted for alleged embezzlement, perjury, accepting bribes, false pretense and extortion. The grand jury also indicted him on charges of extortion, for which he charged the state for food for prisoners which was not bought nor fed.

Harwell G. Davis, attorney general of Alabama, ordered the grand jury to return a bill of indictment against O'Rear, to conduct it. The attorney general will now file impeachment proceedings with the supreme court and O'Rear will be tried before that tribunal.

Sheriff O'Rear maintains he is innocent and that his strict enforcement of prohibition and anti-salo laws are the only blame for the charges against him.

Fans here are extremely anxious to get a view of the famous Perry Adair. Adair's memorial trophy, upon which the name of the winning player is engraved, is the southern trophy stands fully four feet in height and is made of solid silver. It is the most handsome and artistic golf trophy in the United States.

The winner, in addition to having his name engraved on the trophy, receives a miniature trophy of the design of the memorial trophy.

There are also trophies for low scores.

Four Bandits Rob BANKERS OF $26,000
Kansas City, June 6.—Four bandits today held up F. J. Lode, paymaster, and Charles G. Haake, cashier of the Main Street bank, as they were returning from the First National bank and robbed them of $26,000.

L. L. Dyer, motorcycle policeman, acting as the bank messenger, was shot. He will recover. Dyer, who was following the messengers' automobile, heard the bandits' cars approaching but thought they were speeders. He pulled over to the curb and as the two cars passed, one bandit shot him.

Lode declared he heard the shot and the seventh, an inflected and a single put the Torries in the lead.

Mat Games on Amateur Program This Afternoon

Atlanta's amateur baseball season will be resumed this afternoon with more than 20 games scheduled. In several instances there will be two games on the same diamond, one starting at 1 o'clock, the other one at 3 o'clock.

The schedule for this afternoon looks interesting with two feature games slated for the Spaulding league, one in the city loop, two in the Perrin league, one in the Royal league and two in the Perrin Sunday school league.

None of the teams are resting in first place any too easy—only last Saturday three of the leaders were beaten by teams that were rated at weeklings. The Knights of Columbus in the Spaulding league lost and now will have one of its hardest games of the season with the strong Junior Chamber of Commerce nine. The Gordon Street Barons and the Atlanta Steel company teams will play a hard game at the Steel plant.

Cracker-Traveler Game Postponed Account Rain

HARRY JOHNSON CALLED HOME BY MOTHER'S DEATH.

Harry (Steamboat) Johnson, Atlanta's favorite umpire, will not be able to officiate in the coming Little Rock series. He was called home yesterday afternoon announcing the death of his mother, and left immediately for Elmira, N. Y., to attend the funeral.

"Steamboat" has always been one of the favorites with Atlanta fans, who regard him as an umpire, is respected by the players over the circuit. His trouble will be deeply regretted all over the Southern league.

Just who President Martin will assign to assist Lou Jordani in the coming series is not known but it is believed that either Muncie or Vicksburg will come here. They are working in Mobile along with Bill Brennan. Whoever comes will hardly reach here in time for today's game, however.

A light shower which started falling shortly before 3 o'clock held off the first scheduled game between the Little Rock Travelers and the Cracker-Travelers. The game will be played today.

Only one contest will be played today but the rival managers decided to play a double header on Monday, which should attract a fair size crowd. The game today will start at 3 o'clock.

Benjamin Karr, who seems to be the Cracker's best bet in the pitching staff, will be sent to the mound in an effort to wrest the first game from the Elbertree crew.

Big Jim Roberts, who trounced the Cracker's during their recent series in Little Rock, will take the opposing moundman.

There is a slight possibility of Bert Niehoff taking up his old stand at the second base position once more. He played two innings of Thursday's game but his broken finger was still giving him trouble. If he is back in the line-up, it means that Mack Hill will go back to the bench unless Hill McAlister's injured ankle has not healed sufficiently to allow him to patrol the center garden.

Another piece of good news is the announcement that George Dumont will work in one of the games of the double header on Monday. Dumont, it will be remembered, strained a ligament in his pitching arm nearly a month ago and since then has been decorating the bench. His presence will greatly bolster the pitching staff.

Kid Elbertree has added many new players to his squad since the last appearance of the bench. His presence, who spent part of last season as a Cracker, is now playing first base for the Travelers, while there are many other former Cracker's on the team.

Olympic Field Trials Are Slated Today at Grant Field

Outstanding track and field stars of the South will take the under paths of Grant field at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the first annual Olympic trials to be conducted in Atlanta under official guidance. The results of today's meet, the closing track spectacle of the year in Atlanta, will determine what men will go to Boston next week to compete in the final Olympic trials.

In addition to the recognized collegiate stars who will compete today, entries are expected from the Atlanta Athletic club, the University of Georgia, and other organizations of their kind. The entry lists will not close until 3 o'clock this afternoon, the time of the starting of the first race.

The spirit features will center interest more than any other class of events. Outstanding stars in these events will be Clever, of the University of Georgia; Pepper, of Mississippi A. and M.; and Edmonson, of the Mississippi A. and M. freshmen.

All three are doing the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat. Edmonson will take the Grant field track for the first time today. Both Clever and Pepper have shown their wares in the annual relay relays for 1924 held a few weeks ago.

Run-off in Javelin.
Two athletes, one from Georgia Tech and the other from Mississippi A. and M., will hold attention in the javelin contest. They are Edmonson, of Georgia Tech, and Clever, of Mississippi A. and M. Both were seen in action in the spear event in the Tech relays this year. In the six meets this year in which both have entered, Priester won three and Welch took three. Today's event will be in the nature of a run-off of the competition between them for javelin honors.

WALKER WINS NATIONAL OPEN CROWN FROM BOBBY

Englewood Pro, With 297, Three Strokes Under Jones, Who Shoots 40 on Last Nine

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
Oakland Hills Country Club, Detroit, June 6.—Cyril Walker, scrubby little Englishman, skinny and lean and sun-burned to the tint of a frankfurter, dawdled home through the crowds to the 18th green of the Oakland Hills golf course Friday afternoon to win the national open golf championship from Bobby Jones, the young amateur from Atlanta, Ga.

Walker turned in an aggregate card of 297 for the 72 holes of play, which was three strokes better than Bobby's card. Walker thought he couldn't do it, and he said as much 24 hours ago, as he went whizzing home over the plate-glass pavement in a mile-a-minute limousine behind the one of Detroit's most dexterous open-field drivers.

"I'm too little," Cyril explained. "I usually weaken on the second day. Still I got 148 today and as long as I'm up with the leaders I mean to have a go at the championship."

Melhorn Third.
Bill Melhorn, attached to a St. Louis golf club, was third with a score of 301 and MacDonald, Smith, Bobby Cruikshank and Walter Hagen were next with 303 and 304.

Walker has always been slightly less popular than a typhoid carrier with the other celebrities of his trade, because he usually plays at a rate which is a little slower than the others. Last year at Inwood, the Golf association sent him out alone because all the others protested that they would be tripping him at a rate which was a little slower than the others. They have called him "creeping paralysis" and have voiced the reproach that Cyril plays around the calendar.

When he was drifting along the course here one of the professionals at Englewood, N. J., but it would be assuming something to say that he is still the Englewood pro. Professional golfers, upon winning the national open championship, usually swing out into space as exhibition players and the home club never sees them again until they have collected the last fortnight of gate receipts and prizes in the year-around program of shows and tournaments.

His wife was among the crowd of about 6,000 people who stamped the eighteenth green as he came charging down the last fairway at the sensational pace of a snail with the championship in his clutch and nothing better than an eight for a par-five hole to the Jones' score of 200.

As he studied the lie of his ball and the slope of the green, the circle began to close in on Walker, Leo Diegel, who was golf instructor to the late Warren G. Harding in Washington, had been pace-making

Reagan, Auburn, Takes Coach Job

Auburn, Ala., June 6.—(Special.) Frank A. "Rip" Reagan, has been employed as athletic director and coach of the new Gadsden High school for the 1924-25 session. Reagan will go to his new post well equipped with training to facilitate his success in his new undertaking. He has been a varsity lineman, receiving almost a majority of selections for all-southern for the past four years. He was captain of the Tiger varsity gridder last fall and made an excellent leader.

In addition to his experience on the field of action he has had quite a lot of experience in actual coaching, having turned out three consecutive winners in class teams during his collegiate career at Auburn. He also has had two years' training in coaching along with his regular courses in college. In addition to this preparation he has gone to the University of California to take the summer course in coaching offered by the great Pacific coast institution under the directorship of the well-known Andy Smith, University of California coach.

Reagan has received two degrees while at Auburn. In 1922 he received D. V. M. in the veterinary college and at the close of last session he was awarded a B. S. degree in agriculture. It is understood that in addition to his coaching duties he will also teach science at the Etowah institution.

In the final tour of the tricky and treacherous course, but there he took three putts to go down and from that point to the finish he got worse, not better. He watched his weary head as the ball conducted coy flirtations with the cups and rolled short or long or wide by inches. When he landed home with Bill he had to report 307, which let him out as Melhorn had the front rating at that time, 301.

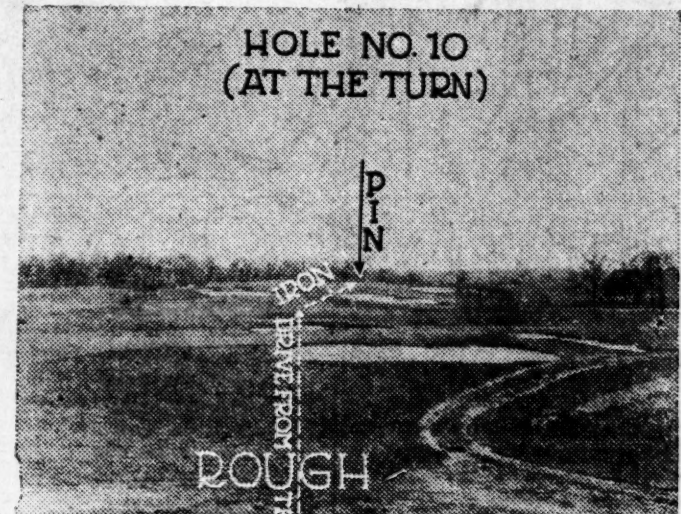

Four Amateurs Entered.
There were only four amateurs in the tournament and two of them were among the leaders, Jones, second, and Chick Evans tied with Eddie Loos, and Robertson for tenth, eleventh and twelfth places with a card of 307. Art Sweet, the unexpected amateur from Chicago, who played so well in the east-west team matches Wednesday, finished with 343, but he made one of the few circus shots of the tournament, slanting a shot from the rough into the cup on the eleventh hole in the afternoon Friday. The professionals who finished in the money were Walker, who won $200 as a prize and the title which is worth a fortune; Melhorn, who wins $200 and the following:

Bobby Cruikshank, Hagen and MacDonald Smith, $115 each; Pete O'Hara and Abe Espinosa, $77 each; Bill Brady, $70; Eddie Loos, $62; Dave Robertson, $62; Jones and Evans, $50 each; Cruikshank, who was up toward the front with 303 at the end, came in with Mike Brady, and both of them were squawking and yowling about the condition of the greens and other slight disadvantages, which were the same, however, for Jones and Walker. Their manners were not exactly sporting, inasmuch as they were being entertained by the Oakland Hills club at a cost of several thousand dollars and a sacrifice of one week's use of the course by the supporting members.

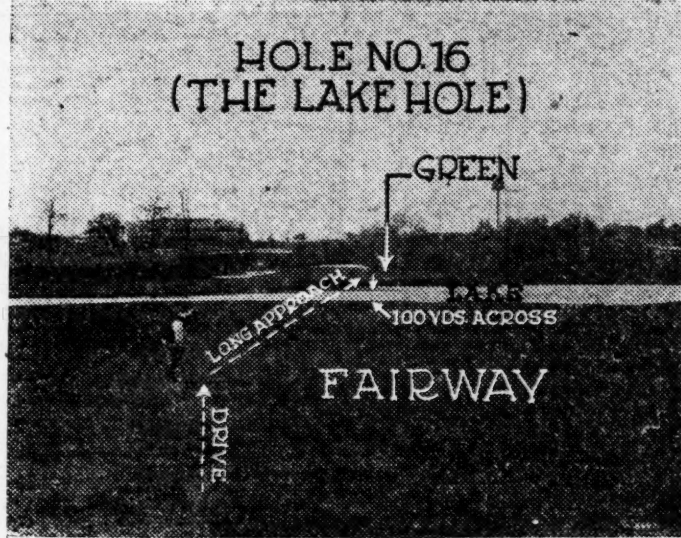

Leaders in Tourney.
The twelve leaders were: Cyril Walker, Englewood, N. J., 148-149-297.
Bobby Jones, Atlanta, Ga., 147-152-300.
Bill Melhorn, St. Louis, Mo., 147-154-301.
Walker Hagen, New York, 150-152-303.
MacDonald Smith, San Francisco, 150-153-303.
Bobby Cruikshank, Westfield, N. J., 149-154-303.
Abe Espinosa, San Francisco, 151-154-305.
Pete O'Hara, Haworth, N. J., 155-150-305.
Mike Brady, Mamaroneck, N. Y., 152-154-306.
"Chick" Evans, Chicago, 154-153-307.
Dave Robertson, Redford, Mich., 158-307.

Old Dave Robertson, gray-haired and declining, struggled along the course with Melhorn, fighting hard and dying game. He still had a chance until he reached the 13th green

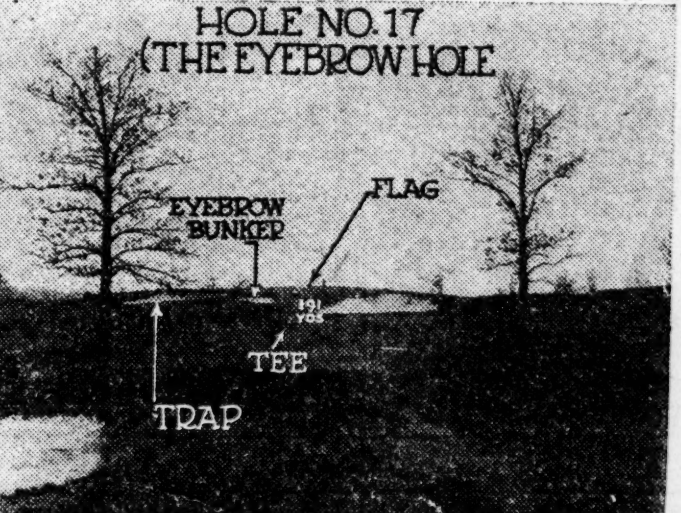

Four Holes of Last Nine Where Bobby Lost Title

This hole of the Oakland Hills country club course was Bobby Jones' hoodoo. He failed to get par on any round. In his last round he took six and went two strokes above Cyril Walker, the new champion, who shot it at par.

Walker slipped three strokes into the lead on this hole yesterday, but it was not the last time the scores of Walker and Jones varied. Here Walker took a birdie 3 to Jones' par 4.

Walker took his greatest advantage of the tournament over Jones on this hole when slipping four strokes below the defending champion. Walker took the hole with a par 3, while Bobby was unable to make it under 4. This lead was reduced to three strokes on the eighteenth hole, when Jones got a beautiful birdie 4 and Walker took par 5. This left the total scores 297 for Walker, and 300 for Jones.

Tenth Hole Alone Cost Bobby Open Championship

Oakland Hills Country Club, Detroit, Mich., June 6.—It was the tenth hole, probably more than anything else, that cost Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, his chance to retain national open golf championship here today.

On this 450-yard hole, par four, Bobby, in four rounds, took six more strokes than perfect figures and two of these additional strokes came in the final stretch. Cyril Walker had finished the first day's 36 holes in a pair of 74's and was one stroke behind the 147 shared by Jones and Melhorn. He had gone into a tie at the end of today's first round by shooting his third 74 while Jones added 75 to his previous rounds of 74 and 73 and Melhorn took 76 for 223.

Walker and Jones both shot 38's on the first nine of the hole, but still remaining tied at 260 for the 63 holes. Then Jones proceeded to drop the championship on the tenth hole which had become his hoodoo in his other three rounds, having been compelled to take two fives and a six previously and perhaps the memories of these disasters bothered him for he pulled his drive into the rough.

Ball in Unplayable Lie.
He played one of the best long irons of the two days from this spot, however, only to have the ball land on a hard spot on the near side of the green, run across the carpet into a trap and an almost unplayable lie. He failed to get out on his first attempt and was wide of the hole when he reached the green in four, taking a six. Walker, following Jones, had no trouble in shooting a par on this hole, thereby getting a lead of two strokes. He dropped one of them at the 403-yard eleventh where he went over par, but recovered at the 348-yard fourteenth with a par, while Jones failed to land on the green and had to hole a long putt to get a four.

The victor gained another stroke at the 384-yard sixteenth with his beautiful shot over the lake, which netted him a birdie to Jones' par, and he was four strokes ahead of the southerner after he got a par three on the 391-yard seventeenth, where Jones again failed with his iron and did not pitch dead. Thus, although Jones finished with a fine birdie four on the 469-yard home hole and recovered one stroke when Walker took an extra shot, he was unable to reach the green. I lost enough strokes on the tenth hole alone to overcome that lead that the victor obtained and the losses were not all due to poor play, for my long iron to the green there on the final round was a fine shot. By misfortune it hit a hard spot and trickled over into a trap, and what was worse, into an almost unplayable lie, whence it took me two strokes to reach the green.

Although the southern youth was dethroned he was the popular golfer of the tournament, being attended during all four rounds by thousands of spectators, who crowded around good-naturedly to see the play, but did not interfere with the players. Jones' play was as steady as clockwork nearly all the way, and though he collected four sixes, he never went above that figure on any hole and he had only one trouble in shooting a par, however, to get more than one two, and he did not bag as many birdies as he usually does on the four rounds. He got eleven three and forty holes in four. Two of these four came on the last nine, and with the six he got on the tenth, cheated him out of victory, for they were on short holes where he pitched wide of the green and then was far from the cup on his run up.

Military Unit Grows.
Cedarstown, Ga., June 7.—(Special.) Company "K," 200th infantry, Cedarstown's military unit, is increasing in numbers at drill perfection. All the equipment has arrived. Plans are being made to make a good showing at the camp this summer.

REPORT
GEORGE CONGDON

Runner-Up Again.

Cyril Walker has won the national open golf championship and Bobby Jones is back in his customary place of runner-up—customary for him before his brilliant playing in 1923 won for him the golf crown of America. However, only a single dispatch from Detroit fails to note that the appreciation of Bobby's gallery proclaims the Atlanta boy the peer of any golfer in the United States. This is written with a respect for Bobby and his game that is equalled only by the admiration that was shown Thursday and Friday by his gallery in Detroit. After his final when he outplayed had luck, it was the old story again. Whoever the gods of golf are, they are determined to keep Bobby a nationally known runner-up now, as they kept him a sectionally-known runner-up before he won the national open.

Now that the 1924 national open is history, eyes are turned toward the 1924 renewal of the southern competition at Louisville next week. Another Atlanta is defending champion in this tournament. Perry Adair, who now holds the memorial cup which bears the name of his father, George Adair, may meet Bobby's fate, for the field is stronger than ever, according to all reports. Adair, however, is on his game as he never was before, so, as the field is strengthened, so is he.

Out of Frying Pan.

Thanks to William Candler, who, we understand, is principally concerned in the location of a Biltmore hotel in Atlanta, the sporting department of the South's Standard News-press enjoyed a full and sumptuous meal last night. We frequently enjoy meals, often as full, occasionally as sumptuous, in our own domicile, but we must from the photographical and satisfactory as a hired orchestra because of the propensity of records for ending just as you get set for a big mouthful of chicken. We were annoyed by one thing, however, last night at the Biltmore's banquet to the press. We had work to do and as tempus fugit there was no opportunity for our departing gracefulness to do the work.

With the grill room brightly illuminated, a broad expanse of shining floor between us and the grill, and the speech-making to appearances just getting under way, we were admittedly in the frying pan. We didn't want to inject ourselves into the affair by grabbing the floor and excusing ourselves with our bosses, past and present, comprising the speech-makers, and we couldn't, without showing base ingratitude, unceremoniously get up and leave. Fuzzy Woodruff, who city editors part of the time and recounts reprobation experiences the rest of the time, came to our rescue by calling on us for a speech. It let us excuse ourselves, but we fear that in making our excuses we dumped ourselves squarely into the fire.

Better Racing Ahead.

Interest in horse racing in the south has been growing by leaps and bounds in the last few years, but it has not yet reached the position the sport holds in the north and east. With the opening of Walter Candler's new racing plant today, horse racing promises to make unprecedented strides forward in the south because it is the equal of any training grounds in the country. In his stables Walter Candler has horses that are expected to take several big events this summer.

The determination of Mr. Candler to build up a stable of which the whole south will be proud has meant the placing of Atlanta on the horse racing map. Steak horse-flesh pounding down the home-stretch is a sight few can resist cheering, whether they be baseball, golf, football, tennis and other sports. Horse racing has a following all its own, too. It's a sport that no other sport can replace. That is why it is pleasing to note that something is being done now in it that has never before been equalled south of Louisville.

Great Lullwater, Axon And Lulla Forbes on Bill To Entertain Presidents

A racing plant that will give new impetus to interest in track events in the south will be christened today, when three races on the new Lullwater Farm track, owned by Walter Candler, will be run for entertainment of members of the Presidents' club on their annual outing.

Mr. Candler's new track and stables make up the most attractive plant in the south and one that is complete in every detail. They provide an unusual advantage for perfect training of the Candler string of horses that includes trotters and pacers that should be heavy winners in the Grand Circuit races which start in July.

The races for this afternoon will start at 2 o'clock, following a barbecue which is slated to get under way at 1 o'clock. There will be class trots and paces and a 3-year-old pace. Each of the class events will have four entries, while five horses are scheduled to start in the 3-year-old pace.

Lulla Forbes to Start.
One of the horses starting today that is expected to attract general attention wherever it races this summer is Lulla Forbes, a pacer that has had a year in class races and is still eligible for the same events this year.

Axon, a 3-year-old with a record of 2:13 1/2 on a half-mile oval, will center all eyes when it takes the track this afternoon. The Great Lullwater is another notable horse that will start.

Mr. Candler will drive entries in all of the races today. Other drivers will be Walter Candler, Jr., John W. Thomas, Greely Winnings and Gus Coggins.

All of the buildings at the new Candler training grounds are rustic in style and strike an unusual note in the construction of the plant. The track was worked thoroughly after the rain yesterday afternoon and, with a little more working today, will be in splendid condition.

Full Attendance Expected.
All members of the Presidents' club will be on hand for the annual outing, according to indications last night.

Officers of the club are Mel R. Wilkinson, president; P. J. Paxson, vice-president and chairman of the executive committee; W. O. Foote, secretary, and Ivan E. Allen, treasurer.

OTHERS SMASH RECORDS IN TRIALS

Indianapolis, June 6.—That the United States Olympic swimming team this year will be composed largely of record-shattering performers was indicated when contenders for the team smashed two more Olympic records in their final try-outs today.

Lester Smith, of the Olympic club, San Francisco, broke an Olympic record of twelve years' standing when he won the 400-metre free style event in 5:23. The Olympic record of 5:24 3/5 was established by G. R. Hodgson, of Canada, at Stockholm in 1912.

Ralph Breyer, of Northwestern university, finished so close to Smith that judges had difficulty in determining the winner, and his time also was considerably lower than the Olympic mark. Adam Smith, of Erie, Pa., was third.

The other Olympic record bettered today was in the 100 metres back-stroke event, Warren Kealoha, of Hawaii, negotiating the distance in 1:13, thus bettering his own Olympic record of 1:14 2/5 made at Antwerp in 1920. Henry Luning and Charles Pung, also members of the Hawaiian team, finished second and third, respectively.

Weismuller Gets Another.
Johnny Weismuller added a new world's record to his large collection when he won the 50-metre free style open event in 25 1/5 seconds. Weismuller was entered in the 400 metres Olympic race, but withdrew to participate in the open event. The record that Weismuller bettered today was held by Pua Kealoha, of Hawaii, at 27 1/8 seconds.

The 100 metres back-stroke and 400 metres free-style were the only Olympic speed races held today. Four speed races have been held during the first two days of the try-outs, and Olympic records have been broken in three of them.

Springboard diving try-outs were completed this morning and judges announced their decision as follows: Albert White, Leland Stanford university, first; Pete Desjardins, Roman Pool Swimming club, Miami, Fla., second; Clarence Pinkston, Olympic club, San Francisco, third.

The try-out will be completed Saturday with final trials in the 200 metres free-style for relay, 200 metres breast stroke, fancy high diving and plain high diving, scheduled. The selection committee will meet immediately after the final event to pick the American team.

Miss Dunn Weds A. L. Osling, Jr., At Pretty Home Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Emily Earle Dunn and Alfred Loftin Osling, Jr., was a beautiful event of Friday evening, taking place at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dunn, on Park avenue.

A special musical program arranged by Mrs. William Ware was rendered while the guests were gathering. Master Orin Muller, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Muller, sang "I Love You Truly." He was accompanied by Miss Evelyn Hatcher, of Harlem, Ga., cousin of the groom, Captain Charles F. Dunn, of the Georgia Military academy, brother of the bride, sang several selections accompanied by Miss Clara Mae Smith, closing with "Beloved, It Is Morn."

The Rev. Will Owen Jones, evangelist and special friend to the bride's family, performed the ceremony.

Bridal Party.
The bridal party descended the stairs to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Evelyn Hatcher. They entered the spacious drawing room to the altar through an aisle formed of eight white pedestals holding graceful wicker chairs.

The altar was arranged in the space between the sun parlor and drawing room, the background of a large arch of trellis work entwined with ivy and Dorothy Perkins roses and backed with stately palms and ferns.

First to enter was Miss Sarah Ellen Kimball, niece of the bride, and Sarah Frances Aven, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Aven, acting as ribbon bearers. They wore frocks of white silk net over pink satin.

Frank Manning and Bowtie Taylor, cousins of the groom, were groomsmen. They were followed by Mrs. T. G. Mangham, sister of the bride, who was groomed in yellow chiffon over satin trimmed in pink lace, and Mrs. Charles Milton Fletcher, of Chattanooga, Tenn., cousin of the bride, groomed in pink chiffon and silver lace over satin, as matrons of honor. Both carried bouquets of sweet peas tied with tulle.

Miss Christine Dunn, acting as her sister's maid of honor, entered alone. She was beautiful in a gown of turquoise blue chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas.

Just before the entrance of the bride the little flower girls, Sallie Mangham, niece of the bride, and Felice Frye, of Marietta, Ga., cousin to the groom, came down the stairs, strewing the bride's path with sweet peas and rose petals carried in dainty little wicker baskets and with long pink bows of tulle. They wore little baby blue chiffon dresses over satin slips. The little frocks were made on fllet lace yokes and were daintily trimmed in hand-made pink ribbon roses. The bride entered with her father, W. E. Dunn, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom attended by his brother, Gerrold Osling, who entered from the reception room.

Lovely Bride.
The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white crepe satin. The gown was simple in design, caught at each side with a cluster of pearls. The neck, train and hem were finished with seed pearls. The veil was of tulle arranged with a bandeau of orange blossoms and completely covered her bridal gown and train.

Miss Jeannette Buice and Miss Glyndon Seagle, of Chattanooga, Tenn., had charge of the bride's book at a special appointed table near the entrance of the guests. Misses Genevieve Taylor, Melba Chevington, Ella Sue Head and Annie Louise Dunn presided at the punch bowls, which were embedded in laurel and pink roses.

W. E. Dunn, Jr., and Henry G. Dunn acted as ushers.

The reception was given by the bride's mother, Mrs. W. E. Dunn. She was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. A. L. Osling, mother of the groom; Mrs. J. J. Taylor and Mrs. W. A. Kimball.

Miss Dunn wore a flesh georgette crepe over orchid satin. Mrs. Osling wore a fawn georgette heavily beaded.

Miss McRae Weds Wm. E. Williams At Home Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Frances Kate McRae to William Edward Williams was an interesting social event of Friday afternoon, taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. James Q. McRae. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ben R. Lacy, Jr., of Central Presbyterian church, in the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives.

The entire house was thrown open for the occasion and quantities of daisies and roses were used in profusion for decoration. The altar, placed in the living room, was banked with palms and cathedral candles were placed in silver candelabra on the altar, while smiles and rambler roses were gracefully draped on doors and windows.

At the entrance of the bride pair Mrs. R. L. Dement played Lohengrin's wedding march for the entrance of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in an afternoon gown of navy blue crepe de chine and georgette. Completing her costume was a model hat of navy blue moiré hair.

Her flowers were a corsage of pink sweet-peas and white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for a brief wedding trip covering points in south Georgia and northern Florida.

Jane Hedden Hat Pattern

No. 361.
A two-piece crown is cleverly shaped to fit the applique design of hat pattern 361. Parrots and fleur de lis conventionalized in pattern are applied with a buttonhole stitch. The brim is wide from side to side, but narrow at the back and front. This too, carries out the idea of harmony of line. Crown embroidery design and brim have a unity of form. Orchid, wistaria, raspberry or jade are lovely colors for this hat if contrasting lavender shades are used for the flowers and dull green, orange and rust for the birds. The needle woman will find this is work which is fascinating in its interest and quick results are achieved.

HELPED HER IN EVERY WAY

So Writes Mrs. Trombley of Sharon, Vt., Concerning Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sharon, Vermont.—"I was weak and run-down, had a terrible feeling and bearing-down pains. I saw an advertisement in the newspaper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began taking it. It has stopped these bearing-down pains and other bad feelings, and has helped me in every way. I have so much faith in the Vegetable Compound that I keep it on hand all of the time and recommend it whenever I have the opportunity."—Mrs. LEWIS TROMBLEY, Sharon, Vermont.

Glad to Help Others
"I had pains in my back and sides for many months, and my work would have to be left undone at those times. My sister told me what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing her, so I tried it, and from the third bottle I was well and every one thought I looked better. I am glad to help others regain their health, and you may use my testimonial."—MABEL HARTMANN, 1824 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. You must believe that a medicine that has helped other women will help you.

MISERY IN HEAD, COULDN'T REST
Ohio Lady Was Suffering From Womanly Weakness, But After Taking Cardui She Grew Strong and Well.

Chillicothe, Ohio.—"Cardui is my standby as a tonic," says Mrs. Mary Smith, of 677 Orange St., this city, after relating her experiences in the use of that well-known medicine for women.

Some years ago, Mrs. Smith says, she found herself in such a serious condition from some womanly weakness that she could do no work and scarcely could get up or down.

"I have misery in my head," she says, "and just ached at times till I couldn't rest. I would have dizzy, fainting spells and just stagger. I didn't have an appetite.

"Some one told me I needed a good, woman's tonic. I asked and was told Cardui might help me. I began to use it, and after a short time, I could see I was being gradually made stronger.

"I quit having the weak spells. I ate and seemed to relish what I ate. I could sleep without waking up at nights. I grew strong and well and when the 'trouble' came around, I had very little trouble."

LIEBMAN FUNERAL SET FOR MONDAY

Isaac Liebman, well known Atlanta business man, died Friday morning at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur L. Harris, 1115 Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mr. Liebman, who was 70 years of age, had been president of the Atlanta Paper company for the past 25 years. In 1884 he and Morris Adler organized the firm of which he was secretary until Mr. Adler's death. Mr. Liebman then became president. He served as president of the Hebrew Benevolent congregation from 1897 to 1899 and was a trustee of the organization for nine years. For a number of years he was chairman of the finance committee of the Hebrew Orphan's home, of Atlanta, and was one of the organizers and first president of the Standard club.

Mr. Liebman was born at Wankheim, Wittenburg, Germany, and came to America in 1875, when a young man. He lived for a short time in Nashville, coming from there to Atlanta. He received his early business experience as a traveling salesman for Elias May, Paper company, of Atlanta, which firm later dissolved and reorganized into the Atlanta Paper company, of which he became president.

Mr. Liebman was also president of the Memphis Paper company, of Memphis, and a director of the Citizens and Southern bank. He had always been a liberal contributor to all charitable causes.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lella Koller Liebman; two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Harris, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Marcus A. Rothchild, of New York; two brothers, Morris and Rudolf Liebman, and one sister, Mrs. Louis Spire, of Tuleburg, South Germany.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning at the residence of his daughter, 1115 Ponce de Leon avenue, Greenburg & Bond in charge.

NEW PAVING RECORD PREDICTED FOR 1924

Seventy-four residence street paving projects in the business sections of Atlanta have been completed at a cost of $340,000 during the first half of the year; three downtown projects to cost $200,000 are under construction, and nearly as many more are contemplated for the year, it was reported Friday from the office of Chief of Construction W. A. Hansell.

The 1924 paving program, he said, will establish this year as the biggest in the city's history.

Most of the street improvements have been financed by property owners on both sides of the streets affected, who paid two-thirds of the cost while the city paid one-third. The Georgia Railway and Power company has paid the cost of paving between its tracks on all streets on which there are car lines. On many of the important streets Fulton county has contributed the city's share of the cost.

BARNETT SHOWS NEED OF BOULEVARD STOPS

Boulevard stops would reduce traffic accidents at least 50 per cent, Captain Barnett, head of the police traffic department, told members of the American Business club Friday.

The "boulevard stop" system is in effect in St. Louis and other large cities.

Drinking youths, careless truck drivers and short left turns were named by Captain Barnett for nearly 75 per cent of the accidents and deaths due to auto crashes at the present time.

The club passed resolutions to assist the traffic department in every way possible to further elimination of accidents.

A. T. Danico, general manager of the E. F. M. store, spoke enthusiastically of the opportunities offered by the phenomenal growth of Atlanta, and stated that Atlanta was by far the best city he had ever visited.

SOLICITOR MAY PROBE ATTEMPTED KIDNAPING

Solicitor General John A. Boykin's office may aid Saturday the county police in their investigation of the alleged attempt by four unidentified men to kidnap N. A. Keith, who lives on Piedmont road near Rock Springs, just before daybreak Friday morning.

Keith, who reported the affair to Lieutenant John Oliver, of county police, said that he was aroused from his slumber by loud knocks upon his door. When he opened to investigate, he found two men who requested him to accompany them to a waiting auto where a third party wished to talk with him.

Suspicious, he declined to go, saying he had retired for the night. He found himself looking down the barrel of two pistols, the request being changed to a command that he accompany them.

Forced to go, he walked between his two captors down the road a short distance where they came across two automobiles and two other men, both of whom Keith says were armed. They commanded him to get into one of the cars, announcing their intention to kill him. Keith then put up a desperate struggle, finally freeing himself as he screamed. This attracted his wife who came into the road calling for help.

The lights of another machine coming up the road caused his captors to jump into their automobiles and dash off at high speed.

Lieutenant Oliver says that Keith could think of no reason why any one would wish to do him any harm, and the attack has proved baffling.

12,500 ACRES LOST Sumter Equalizers Seek Land Indicated on Chart

Americus, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)—Sumter county's board of tax equalizers is conducting a search for 12,500 acres of land declared by the state tax department to exist in this county, but which do not appear upon the tax digest. Investigation has already disclosed that approximately 3,000 acres of the missing land is embraced within the incorporate limits of Americus, Leslie and Plains, and is properly returned as city property. This leaves, however, approximately 10,000 acres yet to be brought on to the tax digest, and the equalizers are taking every precaution to see that none of these missing acres longer escape taxation.

VETERAN THOUGHT LOST BY FRIENDS TURNS UP SAFELY

Surprised there should be any anxiety over his absence if he should desire to see the bright lights of the city he loved, Allen Andrews, 70-year-old Confederate Veteran of Dunedin, Fla., Friday morning returned to the residence of Mrs. J. O. Douglas, 18 West Third street, and, bidding them farewell, left on his journey to Asheville, North Carolina.

Andrews left for a drug store at North avenue and Spring street just before 10 o'clock Thursday night, and when he failed to return by midnight, his friends became uneasy, fearing he had met with foul play. Police were notified and requested to search for the veteran. This hunt was in progress when he returned to his home with a broad smile that increased to a hearty laugh, when he learned the constabulary had been placed on his trail.

"You should have known that a man three-score-and-ten years of age knows enough to watch his step in this fine city of yours," he remarked.

Evangelist Thrown Off Prohi Ticket as Rebuke

Columbus, Ohio, June 6.—The prohibition party adopted its platform and nominated a national ticket today after a session which was marked by the withdrawal of several delegates from the floor and a stinging rebuke to A. P. Gouthey, Seattle evangelist, first nominated for the vice presidency and then thrown off the ticket.

Nominees were for president: H. P. Faris, Clinton, Mo., banker; for vice president, Miss Marie C. Brehm, a temperance worker of Long Beach, California.

Miss Brehm was nominated by acclamation after Dr. Gouthey had won the place by a vote of 3 to 1 over her (Colonel) Alfred L. Moody, of Waterloo, Ind.

Defeated for President.

Gouthey had been defeated for the presidential nomination when he received 40 votes to 82 cast for Mr. Faris, and 2 for William F. Varner, of New York. Suggested for second place on the ticket, & was only by the insistence of several delegates that the rules were not suspended to allow acclamation in his behalf.

The formal ballot was almost equally decisive and a motion was offered to make the nomination unanimous. Then he took the floor and said: "I was definitely called of God, first in the ministry of the Presbyterian church, and then to evangelize. I have been trying to decide this question, and can say only that the call to evangelize prevails. I, therefore, withdraw and beg to move as a substitute that Miss Brehm be declared the unanimous choice of the convention."

There was stunned silence, broken by the Rev. Aaron S. Watkins, Ohio, who was presidential nominee four years ago.

he said. "A lift of the eye-brow an hour ago would have stopped this farce and we would have placed this party crown upon the brow of Miss Brehm. I do not think Mr. Gouthey should be allowed to withdraw."

Ballot Is Reconsidered.

Dr. D. Leith Colvin, New York, running mate of Dr. Watkins in 1920, approved the latter's remarks and said:

"I do not think anyone should be permitted to capitalize a nomination for vice-president of the United States. I move we reconsider the ballot and proceed anew to the nomination for vice-president."

Dr. Gouthey replied:

"I have no need to capitalize this convention. I preach to thousands of people in all parts of the country and have no inclination or desire to capitalize this or any other political convention. I ask you only to believe that I was sincere."

Dr. Colvin's motion prevailed unanimously and the formal nomination of Miss Brehm by acclamation followed.

"Anna Christie."

(At the Lyric.)

With the two performances today—afternoon and evening—Atlanta have their last opportunity of witnessing the Lyric Players' presentation of the Lyric Theatre's production of the famous Pulitzer prize play, which is probably the most finished production from an artistic or dramatic standpoint that the players yet have attempted.

John B. Little, Gladys Harburt, Lora Rogers, Romaine Callender and other of the popular players have to hitherto unequalled heights of histrionic attainment in "Anna Christie."

"Ladies Night."

(At the Lyric.)

Three more times Atlanta may see Wilfred Lyall as the girl-friend of a Turkish both patrons who cured his bashfulness. The play is "Ladies Night," by Avery Hopwood and is as cleverly described as a stream of laughter.

"The Bat" comes back to Atlanta next week in all its comic frightfulness, with a ladies' bargain night on Monday at the lowest prices at which "The Bat" has ever been presented.

Hodges' Musical Comedy.

(At the Forthright.)

Today provides the last opportunity for Atlanta to see and hear "My Havana Girl," the sparkling musical comedy that is being offered by Jimmy Hodges and the Forthright Comedy company at the Forthright theater this week.

Congratulatory messages have poured in upon the Forthright management all during the week in the splendid success of the new musical organization.

"Bluff."

(At the Howard.)

"Bluff," with Agnes Ayres and Antonio Moreno, a flashy Sam Wood picture in New York setting, will be shown at the Howard theater for the next few days today. "Bluff" relates the amusing adventures of a small-town girl who out-bluffed New York and won fame and happiness. The story deals with Fifth Avenue's famous model, the work of designers and beautiful models. One can readily imagine the magnificent gown display in such a setting.

"Mademoiselle Midnight."

(At the Rialto.)

A splendid bill which has for its chief feature Mae Murray in "Mademoiselle Midnight" closes a run of a week at the Rialto theater with showings today.

A comedy, "Slow and Sure," has a comedy.

MELTON'S DENIAL IS CONTRADICTED

Washington, June 6.—Secretary Mellon today entered a formal denial of charges leveled against his conduct of the treasury department by Gaston B. Means in testimony before the senate Daugherty committee.

In a letter to the committee the secretary denied in detail Means' story about his investigations into a report that Mr. Mellon had agreed to issue whisky withdrawal permits to Rex Sheldon, of New York, in return for money to help make up the deficit of the republican national committee. The denial applied in part to a conversation on the subject which Means said took place between himself and former Undersecretary Gilbert of the treasury, but as soon as the secretary's letter had been entered in the record Thomas W. Miller, the alien property custodian, was placed on the stand and testified that he himself had been present at such a conversation.

Miller sustains Means. Colonel Miller said he brought Means and Gilbert together in his office. "I can't say exactly what was discussed," he continued, "but it concerned Rex Sheldon. Means then was an agent of the department of justice."

On this point Secretary Mellon had said in his letter: "This is characteristic of Means' testimony. Mr. Gilbert never met Mr. Means. No interview took place. Dropping Secretary Mellon's letter, Senator Wheeler took up the question of the return by Miller of $8,000,000 to a Swiss company, representing the value of the evidence available, was entitled to the money under 'principles' which Miller said he met Richard Merton, who negotiated the release, but denied."

KRYPTOK BIFOCALS
The Ballard Make
They are a combination of glass allowing you to see both near and far with one solid glass. No removing your reading glass to see distant objects, no seams, lines or blisters to worry you or attract attention of others to your age. Absolutely invisible while on the face they have proven a revelation to thousands who have come to us for them. Why are we successful with Kryptok? Because, we are extremely careful in the examination of your eyes, the correct grinding of the glass, and perfect adjustment of frames to each individual face, all of which is absolutely necessary to insure comfort and appearance. If you have Kryptok bought elsewhere and cannot use them bring them to us and we will find the trouble. Ask the better oculists or any of our patients what the Ballard service is to the public.

Locally, no steady downpour is likely for any length of time today, although indications were that plenty of water would be available overhead for an occasional shower. No rise in temperature is anticipated.

A DREAMER'S DREAM
—Last night I dreamed a wonderful dream. In fancy I saw a thousand men getting measured for tailor-made suits, all at one time. Being greatly astonished, I asked one of them why all the excitement, and he answered me as follows: "We are getting our measures taken for $1.00 each and getting our suits at the wholesale price—not paying any retail profit." That was my dream. My, my, what a cinch! I double-dare 1,000, or even 100 men to look me in the eye and offer ME that! This is your challenge, men. I challenge you, YOU to see the goods, SEE the prices, just LOOK—AND USE YOUR OWN JUDGMENT.
